The same classification applies to articles resembling lace, consisting of ribbons, lace, gimpes, sewn or embroidered, and all afrikanes embroideries, even if the foundation tissue is partly visible. (xv) In calculating the weight per square metre of coloured tissues for purposes of classification, a deduction of 10% is made for dye and dressing. (c) Pairings ..... 80 00 —
(xvi) In counting the threads of the tissues, classified in Nos. 277 and 296, each twisted strand taken separately shall be deemed to be a single thread, so that threads of more than one strand shall be considered as consisting of as many single threads as there are separate strands in their composition. In counting the threads, those which have been added by braiding are also reckoned, as also silk threads which do not cause the stuff to partake of the character of silk or half-silk tissues. As to tissues which are not evenly close-woven throughout, the number of threads shall be determined by taking the average number of threads counted in the loose-woven part and in the close woven part. * As regards cotton tissues, printed, dyed, or manufactured of dyed yarn, the method of determining the tariff classification in accordance with the stipulations of the Swiss Treaty may be employed if the importer desires the most method as more advantageous. This provides that in order to determine the subdivision of No. 277 under which these tissues are eligible, they shall be weighed in the crude state, neither coloring nor dressing being taken into account. For this purpose, each kind of such tissues presented for customs clearance must be accompanied by a cutting of the same tissue in the crude state, measuring at least 1 square decimetre.

Note 2.—Remnants of leather, unserviceable worn out pieces of leather which cannot be used for making any articles of leather, are free of duty.

note 3.—Pieces of leather and straps, manufactured by gluing or pressing together, with impressed or embossed ornamentations or perforated, also pieces of leather shaped for special purposes in any way, pay the same duty as leather ware—n.s.m.

Note I. —The heading "Iron" includes steel for tariff purposes.
Note II. —In the case of manufactures of iron a distinction is made between roughly finished and finely finished goods: As "roughly finished" as distinguished from rough (unfinished) wares, are included all wares which are filed, shaped by the cutting-edge, drawn, smoothed, commonly painted, blued by case-hardening, riveted, screwed or otherwise joined together. As "roughly finished" wares, are also included those which after being finished receive a fine smooth surface. As "finely worked or finished" wares, are considered all those which are finely painted, enamelled, varnished, lacquered, oxidized, polished and those which are coated with base metals, or their alloys (except copper, nickel and aluminium and their alloys) (G.).
Note III. —Iron bars, plates, wire and other iron wares, which are covered or plated with copper or copper alloys, nickel or aluminium, pay a surtax of 50% if such wares do not come under a higher tax. In wares which are separately tariffed as commonly or finely worked, the rates on the finely worked wares are to serve as the basis for the calculation of the 50% surtax.
Note IV. —In case a tariff number provides for duty on articles not combined with other materials, and such articles are so combined, they shall only be dutiable under No. 578, if, by reason of such combination, they come under a higher tax.
Note V. —In case iron goods are combined with an insignificant quantity of other metals or materials, such combination will be without effect on the classification if it only consists of accessory or unimportant parts. The classification also remains unaffected by the presence of ordinary inscriptions, names of firms, or trade marks either cast, stamped, printed in colour or by bronzing (A.).

GENERAL NOTES TO THE TARIFF.

1.—For tariff purposes a distinction is made in the combination of articles with common, fine, or the finest materials:

1. Fine materials are leather, caoutchouc, wax, muslin and wax taffetas, bookbinders' cloth, bone and horn, artificial carving materials (except those mentioned under 2), ornamented or nickelled base metals and their alloys; merschaum and its imitations, imitations of ivory, tortoise shell and mother of pearl, glass imitations of amber, lava, false "leonsch" wire and threads; tissues (except those mentioned under 2), false pearls, embroidery on any materials except silk (G.).

2. As fine materials are reckoned: real ivory, real tortoise shell, real mother of pearl, real amber and imitations thereof except those of glass; jet, real or imitation; manufactures of silk, lace, silk embroidery, artificial flowers and leaves, worked feathers for ornament, wig makers' wares and other manufactures of human hair, semi-precious stones, real gilded or silvered base metals and real
"leonsch" wire and threads, also articles thereof, as well as articles of false
"leonsch" wire and threads (G.).

Wares in combination with precious metals or precious stones are to pay duty according to the particular provisions of the tariff (G.).

3. All other materials are considered as common for tariff purposes (G.).

II.—Unimportant accessory parts, serving only to fasten or hold together the single parts of articles, e.g., studs, rivets, screws, hooks, clips, clamps, rings, namings (Beuteln), hinges, bars, lock (with keys), ribbons, threads, strings, thongs, cords, also insignificant ornaments, inner linings or linings are to be left out of consideration for tariff purposes (G.).

III.—In cases where various surtaxes are leviable simultaneously, each surtax shall be calculated with the original tariff as base (G.).

IV.—In so far as the duty leviable on an article depends on the duty leviable on another article specified in the Conventional Tariff, the former duty shall be calculated according to the rate laid down in the Conventional Tariff, and not according to the rate specified in the General Tariff (G.).

V.—If an article combined with other materials is not specially provided for in the tariff, it shall only be dutiable under the respective numbers if, by reason of such combination, it comes under a higher tax than is fixed for the same article without combination.

Said articles pay "trosharina" whether produced in the country or imported from abroad into Serbia.

ART. II.—Subject to the stipulations of the law respecting rural warehouses, all articles liable to the "trosharina" may be sold in the said warehouses.

Articles having paid the "trosharina" in accordance with the present law shall be furnished with marks to be affixed in the manner and to the extent prescribed by the regulations on the subject.

ART. III.—No "trosharina" shall be payable on articles of foreign origin passing through in transit Serbia to another country or removed from mixed or customs warehouses for export from the country, nor on articles of national production exported abroad.

ART. IV.—Diplomatic and consular officers are exempted from payment of the "trosharina" chargeable on articles destined for local consumption and purchased direct abroad or from the producer in the country, provided our diplomatic and consular officers enjoy the same exemption in the respective foreign countries.

Honorary consuls are not entitled to the above privilege.

II.—PAYMENT OF THE "TROSHARINA."

ART. V.—Articles liable to "trosharina" shall pay the same at the time they are offered for sale or enter into consumption.

ART. VI.—Articles imported from abroad pay the "trosharina" at the time of entry at the customs.

ART. X.—If the "trosharina" is leviable on the weight, it shall be assessed on the net weight after deducting the tare, and if payable according to volume, it shall be paid without taking into consideration the receptacles and wrappers in which the goods are packed for sale and consumption.

ART. XI.—The "trosharina" shall be paid in gold coin or by means of "trosharina" stamps as provided in respect of each kind of merchandise liable to the tax, by the regulations for the execution of the present law.

V.—EXPORTATION OF ARTICLES LIABLE TO THE "TROSHARINA" AND REFUND OF THE "TROSHARINA" PAID.

ART. XXVII.—In case articles having paid the "trosharina" are exported to a foreign country, the amount collected in respect of the tax shall be refunded to the producers and vendors of the said articles, but no refund will be granted unless the amount of the "trosharina" exceeds 10 dinars.

ART. XXVIII.—Applications for refund of the "trosharina" must be made to the authorities who collected the tax, and proof of exportation will have to be duly furnished to the proper customs authorities.

ART. XXIX.—Applications for refund of the "trosharina" paid can only be made within six months from the date of customs clearance of the exported goods, exclusive of the day of actual clearance.

All applications for refund of the "trosharina" lodged after the aforesaid limit shall be rejected.

CERTIFICATES OF ORIGIN FOR IMPORTS.

The following memorandum relating to the regulations as to certificates of origin for goods imported into the kingdom of the Serbs, Croats and Slovenes is understood to be based on information furnished by the Customs department of the Serbian Ministry of Finance:—

1. Certificates of origin are required for all goods imported into the kingdom of the Serbs, Croats and Slovenes.
2. The application of the "maximum" or "treaty" tariffs on all goods imported is made conditional on the submission of certificates of origin.
3. Certificates of origin may be issued by the local Chambers of Commerce or by commercial associations acting as such Chambers, by Chambers of Industry, and by the police and communal authorities of the place from which the goods are sent.
4. The origin of the goods may also be certified on the original invoices.
5. Direct bills of lading (by rail or ship) may also serve as proofs of the origin of the goods.
6. Certificates of the origin of the goods written on the invoices or on the export declarations by the exporting customs houses are also considered valid.
7. Unless proper certificates of origin are produced when the goods are being passed through the custom house, the "maximum" (general) tariff rates will be applied.
8. Certificates of origin should indicate the quantity (gross weight), number of packages, marks, numbers, place of origin and the name of the sender.
9. It is not necessary that certificates of origin should be visé by a Serbian consul.

Other products liable to duty on importation into the Peninsula and Balearic Islands shall enjoy the same treatment as those of the most-favoured nation.

Goods, products, and articles imported into the Canary Islands from the Peninsula and Balearic Islands shall have their nationality, and be considered as foreign, if returned to their country of origin as unsalable, or from any other cause.

Furniture of Spaniards who have resided in the Canary Islands may be admitted duty-free on production of documents showing shipment thereof on coasting vessels, or of a certificate in lieu.

All war material and military equipments proceeding from all free ports shall be admitted duty-free, when forwarded with a permit or pass of the Commissioner or Head of the Army Corps to whom they are consigned.

Furniture the property of Spaniards who have resided in Fernando-Po and Dependencies, in Rio de Oro or other Spanish Possessions in Africa, shall be granted free entry, on production of documents showing shipment thereof on coasting vessels, or of a certificate in lieu.

In order that cocoa and coffee may be treated under Tariff No. 635 and 636, the following conditions must be adhered to:

1. The product must be imported into the Peninsula and Balearic Islands on the same vessels as took the goods on board at Fernando-Po and with a manifest certified by the tinner.

2. The vessels must be national; they will be allowed to stop at foreign ports of natural call, provided they prove that they did not take on board cocoa nor coffee.

3. Cocoa and coffee must be contained in sacks branded with the name of Fernando-Po in bold letters, and the Administrator of Finance of Santa Fe shall control both the shipments and transshipments of the portions landed on the shores of the island, according to the certificates issued by the Municipal Council, and satisfy himself of the products actually originate from the said island.

4. Masters of the transshipping vessels shall draw up prior to their departure for Spain, a manifest setting out the whole cargo, and the Administrator of Finance shall verify whether the same agrees with the above mention'd certificate; the manifest shall afterwards be viséed by the Governor of the Colony in accordance with the provisions of Rule 1.

Should the cocoa and coffee from Fernando-Po have been landed and re-shipment in the Canary islands or in any other port whatsoever, the same will be liable to the duties set forth in the Tariff for goods of like description, if a product of foreign countries.

The duty applicable under No. 635 of the Tariff to mixed cargo in the island, the product and origin of Fernando-Po, shall only be levied to an amount of 2,000 toms per annum. Provided always that quantities in excess are to pay duty at the rate of 120 pesetas per 100 kilos, net weight leviable on cocoa of other origin. For the purposes of the application of the reduced rate, the date and hour of presentation of the manifest at the port of destination will, in case of several consignments, be taken as a basis. If a full consignment cannot be included in the quantity entitled to the privileged treatment, the advantages shall be allotted proportionally among the various consignments of the goods.

DISPOSITION NINTH.

DIRECT IMPORTATION.

Direct importation, within the meaning of the Tariff, is understood to be the traffic of vessels which, having loaded goods in any port, convey them to their destination in the Peninsula or the Balearic Islands without touching at any other foreign port during the voyage.

Goods shall retain the privileges of direct importation in the following cases:

1. Whenever on account of damage or of some unavoidable sea accident, the vessel is obliged to tranship her cargo on any other vessel to proceed to their destination.

2. When vessels call at foreign ports situated on their route in order to take on or land cargo and passengers, provided the goods arrive with direct bill of lading and be entered in the manifest certified by the Spanish Consul in the port of origin.

3. Raw cotton and pure animal hides, when, without entering the Customs warehouses or stores, they have been landed in a European port to await on quay or lighters the arrival of the vessel intended to transport the same to Spain, and without entering a depot or warehouse, provided that the fact be attested by a certificate from the Customs at the European port viséed by the Spanish Consul, and that the shipments be accompanied by direct bills of lading.

4. Vessels arriving from America with a cargo of untanned hides and skins, raw cotton, and staves, consigned to different ports in Spain, after entering one or more ports of the Peninsula, are allowed to call at the port of origin, for the sole purpose of landing therein the portions of such goods as aforesaid are accompanied by through bill of lading and are designated in the corresponding transit manifest and are conveyed to said port; they may also proceed on their voyage to other ports in Spain, and their cargo consigned to such ports shall not lose the Customs benefit of direct importation, provided that the transporting vessels do not go out of their ordinary course specified on the manifest of the voyage.

1. This document shall, besides a declaration to the above effect, contain the following particulars:

As to other countries, the Customs will, until otherwise decided, continue to conform to the practice hitherto adopted.

Spanish Chambers of Commerce, legally constituted abroad, as well as career Consuls and Vice-Consuls of Spain, may likewise issue certificates of origin.

Honorary Consuls, Vice-Consuls and Consular-Agents cannot issue above documents except with the previous special authority of their Superintending Consul for every registered producer, manufacturer, agent or merchant.

Certificates of origin shall be issued either according to the declaration presented by the producer or manufacturer of the goods, or by his legal representative, proving that the goods are really the product of his manufacture or industry, or according to the declaration of a licensed merchant who must be duly registered in the latter case, it is not necessary to mention the name of the manufacturer or producer in the invoice. The certificate shall be issued, according to the official form adopted by each country, either on the signed declaration presented to the competent authorities by the interested party, or on the verbal statement made before said authorities. In the first case, the fact shall be stated that the certificate was issued on the presentation of a written declaration; in the second case, the certificate must bear the signature of the declarer under the following words "thus declared under my responsibility."

B.—Certificates of origin shall state the name, residence and domicile of the manufacturer directly requesting the certificate and, when concerning a legal representative, the same indications, as well as those relating to the declarer himself, and to licensed merchants, their name, residence and domicile.

Should it be impossible to state in certificates of origin, the residence of the manufacturer, of his representative or person applying for same, owing to the factories or works being situate outside the town or in localities having nameless streets or unnumbered houses, the fact shall be stated in the certificates.

In all cases, the certificates of origin will contain the following particulars:

The commercial condition or quality authorizing the applicant to make the declaration of origin;

The number and kind of packages; their marks, numbers and gross weight;

The designation of the goods according to material and class and, when concerning yarns and tissues, the specification whether of cotton, hemp, flax, wool, silk, or of an admixture of these materials.

The place of destination of the goods in Spain as well as the consignee's place of residence.

Certificates of origin issued "à l'ordre" shall be accepted in every case by the Customs Ordinances do not insist on the express consignment, and provided the bills of lading be also "à l'ordre," but on condition that the final consignee affix to the certificate his acceptance as consignee, adding date, and that this formality be fulfilled prior to the production to the Customs of the document referred to, accompanied by the import declaration.

The certificates must be signed by the authorities issuing the same and the signature viséed and legalized by the Spanish Consul. Spanish Consuls shall issue no certificates of origin except when requested to do so and, in such case, only when the declarers are known at the Consulate, and when the Consul is enabled to appreciate the accuracy of their declarations.

The competent authorities issuing certificates have the right and it shall be their duty to require proof of the accuracy of the declarations made before them, whatever be their form, and for this purpose to call for the production of all necessary documents, in exceptional cases, or when serious reasons exist for suspecting the accuracy of certificates presented by a certain commercial firm, notification of the fact can be given, through the diplomatic channel, to the Government of the country where the certificate was issued, in order that a proper decision, conformably to the laws of the country, be adopted, and that, if necessary, the future declarations presented by said firm be more minutely controlled.

Certificates of origin shall cease to be valid three months after the date of the Consular visa, when they were issued in European countries, on the coasts of Asia in the Mediterranean and the Ocean up to the Gulf of Guinea. They shall lapse at the expiration of six months when issued in all other parts of the globe. When, owing to damage, sanitary measures, general interruption of traffic or other causes, which could neither be foreseen nor prevented, the production of these documents has been delayed, the time of validity may be prolonged, provided that the Administration is enabled to appreciate the reasons justifying such extension.

In order that the privileged treatment may be accorded to goods proceeding from countries which have been warehoused in any country whatsoever, a certificate issued in the country where such goods have been warehoused must in addition to the certificate of origin, be furnished proving that the goods are really those which had been stored and that no alteration has been made in their packing, that no other goods have been added to the packages, and that the nature of the goods has not been altered by any process of manufacture or otherwise.

The Customs shall require production of the certificate of origin for the clearance of goods belonging to such consignees.

C.—The certificates can be written in the Spanish or French language, when they are presented in another language they will be translated into Spanish, either by sworn translators, shipping agents, commercial brokers, Agricultural, Industrial and Commercial Chambers of the locality, or by the Consul of the nation to which the goods belong.

The Consuls are to make these translations at the expense of the Agricultural, Industrial and Commercial Chamber, a right but not an obligation.

Translations of certificates of origin made by the Spanish Chamber of Commerce in London will be held as valid.

In all cases, certificates of origin are liable to a stamp duty of 2 pesetas.

D.—When the certificates presented are drawn up both in the language of the country of origin and in Spanish, the Spanish copy shall not be considered as valid and another translation shall be made according to the established rules.

E.—Small quantities of goods, or parcels, brought by messengers shall be subject to the general import Tariff.

F.—Postal parcels shall be subject to the second Tariff, provided always that their way-bill has been issued in a Treaty-country, and that on examination at the Customs the origin can be indisputable.

G.—When the way-bill has not been issued in a Treaty-country, the first Tariff shall, without exception, be applied.

H.—Goods contained in so-called "commercial" packages weighing not more than five kilograms may be dealt with in the same way.

If the consignment consists of various parcels of an aggregate weight not exceeding 25 kilograms, it will be unnecessary to produce a certificate of origin, even in case they are despatched from the same station, and the sender and consignee should be one and the same person.

Localities bordering the frontier shall in no case be considered as place of origin.

I.—Under the treaty with Switzerland, no certificate of origin is necessary to secure for postal parcels the benefit of conventional treatment on import.

J.—In levying duty on articles brought into the country by travellers, such articles will be divided into two categories. Those of personal use, in a quantity proportionate to the condition of the traveller; and those which, by their nature and quantity, possess the character of a commercial shipment or commission.

The latter shall be subject to the first Tariff, and as to the former, should the traveller arrive direct from a Treaty-country by sea, the reduced rates, i.e., the duties of the second Tariff, shall, as the case may be, apply, having regard to the country of origin; should the traveller, however, arrive by sea or land from a non-Treaty-country he must prove by his ticket or the labels affixed to his luggage, that he comes from a Treaty-country, in which case only shall the reduced rates or duties of the second Tariff be applied as aforesaid. In the absence of these proofs, the duties of the first Tariff shall be levied.

K.—The certificates of origin for products of China and of Japan specially destined for Spain are to be written in Spanish at the Spanish Consulates established in those countries and must bear the visa of the Consul; the vessels conveying them may transship them on other vessels without the goods losing the corresponding privileges, provided it be proved that no transshipment was effected.

Spanish Consuls in these countries shall mention in certificates of origin relating to products of that country intended for Spain, the name, description and nationality of the transporting vessel, also the port wherein the goods are to be transhipped.

Spanish Consuls will, on their part, after checking the transshipment, certify on the manifests submitted to their authentication in ports where such transshipment took place that it was duly effected from vessels arriving from China or Japan.

VII.—Transit Certificates.

Transit certificates shall be drawn up in the same terms as certificates of origin, save that the authorities issuing the same will note by which route the packages are to travel; if by land, it will be necessary to state the name of the dispatching station, and also the Spanish frontier station; if partly by sea the certificate shall state the dispatching station, the station of entry in the non-Treaty-country, and also the port of shipment in that country.

In the latter case, the Customs documents showing the transit must be produced to the Spanish Consul, to enable him to note them in the certificate.

If the merchants so desire they may request the Consul to issue a separate certificate.

Goods the produce of Treaty-countries and proceeding therefrom by sea, shall pay the duties stipulated in the second Tariff, i.e., the reduced rates, even when the vessels conveying the same have called during the voyage at ports of non-Treaty-countries, and have transacted business or have transhipped on other vessels the goods destined to Spain.

For that purpose, the goods must appear in the manifest made out at the port of shipment in the Treaty-country, as consigned to Spain. If, afterwards, the goods are transhipped on another vessel, the Spanish Consul will state on the manifest, after having examined the documents, that the goods were shipped from a Treaty-country in destination of Spain.

If, in addition to these formalities, the goods require a certificate of origin, this certificate must be furnished.

VIII.

When merchants receive certificates for which the above-stated formalities have not been complied with, they may return them for a refund before clearing the goods; in the interval they may avail themselves of the time allowed by the Customs Ordinances for the storage of the goods. The certificates of origin must be presented at the time when application is made to clear the goods, and are to be accepted by the Customs authorities regardless of any slight irregularity in form.

If, however, at any time thereafter, it should be ascertained that the accepted certificate contains fraudulent statements, recourse will be had to the Tribunals who will deal with the matter according to law.

If on clearance of the goods, the certificates do not tally with the goods to which they refer, they will be considered as null and void, and the goods shall pay duty according to the first Tariff.

The certificate shall be accepted and acted upon when the difference between the gross weight of the packages mentioned therein and that verified by the Customs examiners does not exceed 20%; but it will be considered as null and void when the difference is greater, and the goods will have to pay the duties stipulated in the said first Tariff.

Certificates made in a country for products from another country shall also be considered as null and void, notwithstanding that they both be Treaty-countries.

IX.

Goods proceeding from Treaty-countries mixed, without distinction, in the holds of vessels with which the origin of non-Treaty-countries, as well as that preventing characteristics of not being the production of a Treaty-country, shall be subject to duty at the rate stipulated in the first Tariff.

X.

All articles, although originally from a non-Treaty-country, which through industries of a Treaty-country have been changed in such manner as to increase their value, will enjoy the benefits of Treaty-countries; but for this purpose the mere handling of the goods, for packing them or dividing them into commercial classes, will not be considered sufficient.

In order that goods requiring a certificate and destined for deposit in the Customs warehouse may benefit of the duties of the second Tariff, the said certificate must be produced at the time of Customs clearance of the goods for consumption.

REMARKS.

1. The surtaxes provided in this tariff apply to the products therein named when of extra-European origin but imported from a European country either by land or sea.

In case of voluntary transshipment in European ports, the duties established in this Tariff will be levied.

2. To be entitled to exemption from the surtax, the products enumerated in this Tariff must be accompanied by certificate of origin if of European production.

3. Crude petroleum from America arriving in Spain in tank vessels which have called at a French port and discharged part of their cargo at such port, is exempt from the surtax, provided that the quantity of petroleum destined for Spain comes with through bill of lading from America, that the quantity discharged in the French port is certified by the Customs authorities there, and that the certificate is visé by the Spanish Consul. Vessels proceeding from America with a cargo of untanned hides or skins, raw cotton and staves, destined for various Spanish ports, after having entered at one or several ports of the Peninsula, and given the undertaking required by Art. 68 of the Customs regulations, may call at Omi in order to discharge the quantities of the above-mentioned goods which, under through bill of lading and included in the corresponding manifest they carry for that place, and may then continue their journey to other Spanish ports without the cargo destined for such other ports losing the benefit of direct shipment, provided that the vessels observe the itinerary indicated in the waybill.

MONOPOLY DUTIES ON IMPORTATION OF MANUFACTURED TOBACCO.

No.	Articles.	Duty.
		Pescetas.
1	Cigars in bulk.....	kilog. 40 00
2	Do. in boxes.....	" 40 00
3	Cigarettes.....	" 25 00
4	Cut tobacco.....	" 25 00

REMARKS.

1. Manufactured tobacco (cigars, cigarettes, and cut tobacco) shall be dutiable together with the weight of interior packages or receptacles in which presented to the Customs, whatever be the quantity, quality or nature thereof, but exclusive of the weight of the outside case or receptacle enclosing the other containers.

2. Cigarettes and cut tobacco imported in bulk in rough receptacles shall be dutiable after deducting the weight of such receptacles containing and used to transport them.

3. Cigarettes of cut tobacco wrapped only in tobacco leaf are regarded as cigars; while those rolled in paper even with an outside wrapper of leaf tobacco are regarded as cigarettes.

4. The Tobacco Monopoly Company is alone authorised to clear through the Customs tobacco destined for private persons, on compliance with the formalities prescribed in Art. 21 of the regulations of Feb. 21, 1901. The Company will charge by way of commission, and in addition to the monopoly duties, 12% on the original value (value at factory) of cigars, and 25% on the value of cigarettes or cut tobacco proceeding from abroad.

NOTES.

NOTE 1.—Coal, coke, and briquettes shall be cleared in conformity with the weight indicated in the certificate issued to the master of the vessel by the Spanish Consul at the port of shipment, showing the quantity received on board according to the charter-party and the bills of lading, which the Consul shall demand to see for the purpose of verifying the weight and the Customs Officials shall visit the vessel conveying it, and the approximate weight of the cargo shall be calculated from the empty space in the hold and the net tonnage of the vessel, it being considered that each cubic metre of net tonnage corresponds to 800 kilograms of coal or briquettes, or 450 of coke. If the result of this calculation differs from the weight as shown on the manifest and declared on the bill of lading, the Customs Officials shall visit in assessing duty, a written record shall be kept of the manner of verification adopted, and of the Customs official or officials by whom the operation was performed.

NOTE 2.—Tarred tissues weighing more than 10 grammes per sq. decimetre shall be dutiable under this heading; and under Tariff No. 705 if such tissues are of less weight. Tarred paper, whether or not lined with tissue, weighing 350 grammes or more per sq. metre, shall be dutiable under this heading; tarred paper of less weight shall be dutiable under Tariff No. 433.

NOTE 3.—As mineral oils dutiable under this No. will be considered all such as, when distilled at a temperature of 200°, leave a residue of 80 %; emit inflammable vapours below 150°; rise in temperature more than 3° when treated with concentrated sulphuric acid; contain more than 10% of their volume of tar and leave a solid residue of more than 3% of the liquid distilled. Oils which do not fulfil these conditions and not included in Nos. 22, 23 or 24, will be classed as lubricants in No. 25. For every shipment of petroleum and mineral oils under Tariff Nos. 19, 20, 22, 23 and 24, a sample of 200 cubic centimetres shall be taken for every 50 cases, and a like quantity for every 10 barrels, or for each tank comprised in one declaration and belonging to the same class. If the oil is of different classes, the mixture shall be made by classes, the quantity of each class being recorded.

These samples shall be mixed in a large vessel, and when the examination of the shipment is concluded 2 litres shall be taken from them and put into separate bottles, which shall be sealed and furnished with labels signed by the Customs officers and the interested party, and forwarded to the Directors-General of Customs for examination. As remaria prompts under Tariff Nos. 19 and 20, 1 kilog. will be taken if solid.

The declared tariff number shall be applied and the duty levied immediately, and the importer shall be bound by the results of the analysis, the clearance not being considered final until such result is known.

The samples shall be analysed within one month, and the interested party shall have the right to be present when the samples are opened and analysed, and to appeal to the Minister of Finance from the decision of the Direction. When, in appealing, the interested party requests a new analysis, he shall bear the expense of such analysis if the decision of the Direction is sustained. In contrary cases, the expenses shall be borne by the Administration.

If the interested party desire to be present at the analysis, he must request permission in writing when he signs the label of the sample.

When petroleum and mineral oils are imported in tanks or reservoirs fixed on board vessels, clearance shall be carried out in the following manner, provided that the port arrangements admit of it:

1st. The petroleum or oil shall be extracted through a tube from the ship-tank by a steam pump, and shall be run into a reservoir or cistern which shall be provided with a tap.

2nd. These reservoirs shall be provided with a tap to conduct the liquid to two receptacles of tin-plate or iron.

3rd. Each of these two receptacles shall be placed on a balance, the tap leading thereto shall be opened, and when the receptacles are nearly full and the balance tends to become level, the flow of petroleum shall be decreased, and the tap shall be closed completely when the needle indicates the weight placed beforehand in the pan.

4th. The weight being determined, the liquid shall be poured out, and the weight of each empty receptacle found, the official charged with the clearance taking a note of the results.

5th. The petroleum or oil once weighed, shall be run out from each receptacle through a tube placed in its lowest part, which tube shall fit into another tube leading to a second reservoir, from which the liquid will be transported to the manufactory; and

6th. The Administration will take care to exercise the greatest vigilance, shutting the tubes at the end of the daily clearance or removing the cocks of the same, in order to prevent the interests of the Revenue being prejudiced on account of leakage or other causes.

NOTE 4.—By "oleonaphtha and lubricating oils" in No. 25 of the Tariff are to be understood mineral oils, used chiefly for lubricating machinery, and not suitable for vapour below 100° at which when treated with concentrated sulphuric acid do not rise more than 5° C. in temperature, and must contain less than 10 per cent. by volume of tar. The solid residuum left after the distillation of such oils is not greater than 3 per cent. of the weight of the distilled liquid. The temperature at which the distillation is to be carried out in order to obtain the said residuum is to be that at which the distilled liquid decomposes, leaving the residue.

Oils which emit inflammable vapours below 150°, shall not be regarded as oleonaphtha; but in the case of a mixture made in order to elude the duty fixed by No. 25, this duty shall be applied in accordance with Section 21 (c) of Disposition 4th.

NOTE 5.—The benzine referred to in No. 26 is that of bituminous coal (hulay). It differs from gasoline or petroleum benzine by the fact that, when treated with a mixture of concentrated sulphuric and nitric acid it emits an agreeable odour, and that it is not rendered insoluble in alcohol, and by the fact that a crystal of iodine colours benzine a more or less yellowish red, and imparts to gasoline a purple colour.

NOTE 6.—Glass of the natural colour of the component paste, which colour, therefore, is not due to the addition of any colouring substance, shall be regarded for the purpose of tariff classification, as uncoloured glass.

NOTE 7.—The rubbing (desgrate) necessary to remove mould marks shall not be regarded as cutting.

NOTE 8.—Glass strengthened with iron wire, and glass ribbed, frosted, or with relief work, of a thickness of from 4 to 12 mm., shall pay duty under No. 34, and that of greater thickness under No. 33.

NOTE 9.—Frames of mirrors shall be dutiable according to kind, if the duty applicable thereto is greater than that applicable to the mirrors.

NOTE 10.—Only bricks, squares, and tiles of baked earth or clay, rough, and not as employed in the construction of walls, furnaces, &c., are included in this number.

NOTE 11.—The term "jewellery" (joyas o alhajas) includes all small articles, whatever their standard of fineness, intended generally for the adornment of the person.

The term gold or silver ware (vajilla) includes writing, toilet, and other domestic utensils, articles for the service of churches, and all large articles serving as ornaments in houses. In clearing wares (vajilla) not entirely composed of gold, silver, or platinum, a reasonable refection shall be made from the total weight for the weight of the other materials, which shall be dutiable under the appropriate tariff numbers.

Gold, silver, or platinum wire is dutiable under No. 52, wire which passes through the holes of the English wire gauge being regarded as wire for this purpose.

NOTE 12.—In order to distinguish gilt articles, they shall be rubbed with warm alcohol, and then tried with a drop of nitric acid. If the articles are varnished, the varnish disappears with the alcohol, and the nitric acid has effect; if they are gilt, they are not affected by alcohol or the nitric acid. Silvered articles are to be tested sufficiently to disclose under the surface plating the colour of the principal metal; or again, if a portion of the silvered metal is dissolved in nitric acid, the silver, should any exist, is precipitated on the addition of hydrochloric acid, chloride of silver being formed, soluble in ammonia, and having the other properties of this substance.

NOTE 13.—By (tochos) is understood crude wrought or rolled iron or steel, generally imported in the form of rectangular or rhomboidal lumps or bars, or in the form of coils, having rounded ends, and rolled in different directions, produced in the process of compression, provided that the minimum transverse dimensions are 10 by 10 centimetres. In case of doubt samples of the goods must be sent to the Laboratorio Metalografico de la Escuela de Minas. When the tochos have been rolled to dimensions smaller than those indicated above, the goods being known as "palanquillas" or "hojas," they will be classified as bars, and be assessed for duty under Tariff No. 49.

NOTE 14.—In order to be dutiable under this number, articles must be incapable of serving any other purpose than that of being cast in iron or steel works, or must be waste articles destined for use in the production of copper by cementation.

All bars (barras or carriles) shall not exceed 1 metre in length.

NOTE 15.—Iron bars are to be distinguished from plates or sheets by the fact of the latter having their edges trimmed, while the bars retain their rough edges resulting from the action of the rolling-mill.

NOTE 16.—In polishing sheet iron, it is first washed in a solution of sulphuric acid to remove the oxide of iron, and then passed through hard polished cylinders. Common sheet iron may therefore be distinguished from polished sheet iron by scales of oxide of iron detaching themselves from the former when one of the corners is doubly bent; this does not occur with polished sheet iron.

NOTE 17.—For the application of Nos. 67 and 68 of the Tariff, the minimum thickness of the tube walls will be taken.

NOTE 18.—Rough pieces of iron or steel, neither turned, adjusted nor polished, even if intended for machinery, shall pay duty under Nos. 72-74, according to weight, except those pieces which, though presenting the same characteristics, are specially classified in other numbers.

NOTE 19.—Wheels weighing less than 160 kilograms, for railway and tramway carriages and waggon shall be dutiable under No. 80.

NOTE 21.—The number of threads in the case of articles dutiable under Nos. 102 and 103 is half the sum of the warp and weft threads of the gauze.

NOTE 22.—The thickness of screws and wash screws, shall be that at the thickest part, where the rod has not been threaded.

NOTE 23.—No. 122 includes kitchen knives, scissors for use in arts and crafts, sewing needles, exceeding 6 centimetres in length and of a maximum diameter of more than 1 millimetre, and also those of which the length is less than 6 centimetres with a maximum diameter exceeding 2 millimetres.

NOTE 24.—All needles for sewing and embroidering whose length and thickness in their maximum diameter do not exceed 6 cms. and 1 mm. respectively, are included under this number.

NOTE 25.—Unfinished parts of side-arms and fire arms shall be dutiable according to kind and condition. If unfinished parts are understood those parts which are not fitted and waiting long.

NOTE 26.—Metallic alloys into which copper enters in less proportion than 2 per cent. of the weight of the article are not considered as alloys of copper. Such alloys shall pay duty according to the tariff numbers to which they correspond, leaving the copper out of account.

NOTE 27.—Articles made of metallic alloys into which aluminium, nickel, or cobalt enters in less proportion than 2 per cent. of the weight of the article, are not regarded as of aluminium, nickel, or cobalt respectively. Such articles shall be dutiable according to the tariff number to which they correspond irrespective of said metals.

NOTE 28.—In accordance with the law of the 30th July, 1892, the Customs will mix 14 per cent. of wool fat or petroleum with all cotton or rayon of any importation. The cost of the materials used for denaturing these oils will be borne by the importer.

NOTE 29.—Products with alcoholic base are subject, in addition, to a tax of 25 pesetas per hectolitre of liquid, whatever may be the proportion of alcohol, in accordance with the provisions of the law of December 10, 1908, and the Royal Decree of December 25, 1909, regulating the taxation of alcohol.

NOTE 30.—The colours included in this number are those composed of a metallic base, which are used mixed with oil or with turpentine, and are generally insoluble in water, alcohol or ether; they are mainly chrome yellows, and are almost always in powder or lumps, such as white lead, chrome yellow, vermilion, Prussian and cobalt blue, English green, and "parrot" (papaya).

NOTE 31.—This No. includes artificial colouring materials which in neutral, acid or alkaline bath, dye textile fabrics, either with or without the addition of mordant. They are all destroyed by the action of heat.

NOTE 32.—In the application of these rates of duty, it is to be understood that the paste must be damp; and that when colours are imported in lumps completely dry they must pay duty under No. 204.

NOTE 33.—Products included in this number shall be dutiable hereunder, even if imported in capsules.

NOTE 34.—This product is subject, in addition to the Customs duty, to a consumption tax of 0.04 peseta per kilo, in accordance with the law of March 18, 1900.

NOTE 35.—The products or substances included in Nos. 243 to 247 shall be examined by the pharmaceutical inspectors who, with the Customs officials, will attest the declarations in the following form: "The goods declared are exported in the declaration, and are (or are not) admitted to importation by virtue of their formula having been published (state where), or their composition having been ascertained by analysis made by —."

Chemists, manufacturers of perfumery and confectioners may also import the above-mentioned essences so long as the quantity does not exceed 5 kilograms.

NOTE 39.—By "explosive compounds" are understood not only dynamite, under any of its different formulas or compositions, but also fulminates, pernax, nitro-glycerine, smokeless or white powders, and in general any explosive preparation which cannot be regarded as ordinary sporting or mining powder. Favier explosives, commonly called nitramines, are considered as explosive compounds.

To determine the duty payable on caps of all kinds for mines, each 100 caps shall be taken as equivalent to 1 kilo, of explosive compound. As

NOTE 72.—Cases, stands, glass covers, and other accessories, even when belonging to alarm clocks, are dutiable as manufactured articles of the material of which they are composed.

When clock-movements are imported within cases, on stands, &c., and the importer does not wish to separate them for the assessment of duty, the works and the dial may be reckoned as weighing 500 grammes in the case of alarm clocks, and 2 kil. in the case of wall and table clocks.

NOTE 73.—Cable or wire, uncovered, shall be dutiable in accordance with the tariff number under which the wire, by reason of its kind and condition, is classified.

Landlords and tenants who at present enjoy the advantages of the Law of June 3rd, 1868, shall pay on implements, instruments, and machines intended exclusively for agricultural purposes an import duty of 1 peseta per 100 kilogrammes. For this purpose, however, the importer must pay to the higher tariff rates unless, within a reasonable time to be fixed by the Customs, he produces a certificate signed by the Mayor of his locality specifying the denomination, class, and weight of the agricultural implements, instruments, and machines employed on the respective estates, together with a further certificate from the proper authorities to the effect that the estate in question is in enjoyment of the privileges of the said special law. If he fails to produce these two documents, he shall pay the full duties provided in the tariff.

NOTE 75.—For the definition of parts of machinery, the following rules will be observed:

1st. A separate piece of a machine is understood to be any article not expressly specified under some heading of the Tariff, which by its shape and the condition in which it is presented for clearance, though not completely finished, can only be used, and can only be considered as destined, for a machine, which, if finished, would pay under the heading of the Tariff referred to in such machine.

2nd. Tubes, bars, axes, screws, sheets, plates, boiler bottoms, wire, and other articles expressly tariffed, must pay duty accordingly, even though they be destined for machinery.

3rd. In order that hose pipes, filters, and cloths, or blankets of wool, linen, cotton, or other textile fibres employed in manufacturing processes, may be dutiable as machinery, evidence to the industry or to the trade in which they are destined must be produced.

When the articles referred to in this note do not meet the requirements indicated, they will pay the duties fixed in the respective numbers of the Tariff.

NOTE 84.—Duties on steam vessels are to be levied on the total tonnage measurement, and no separate duty is to be levied on the machinery, which is to be considered as an integral part of the vessel.

As a basis for the Tariff clearance of ships introduced from abroad the certificate of tonnage measurement may provisionally be based, which in conformity with Article 28 of the Regulations of the 2nd December, 1874, and the Royal Order of the 12th January, 1876, has to be delivered to the Collector of Customs with the visa of the Commandant of Marine.

The interested parties must present to the Customs authorities a certificate of the Commandant of Marine stating that the certificate of measurement has been approved by the Inspector, in accordance with Art. 28 and 32 of the said Regulations; and it is to be understood that the Customs authorities will not consider the clearance and payment of the duties as finally settled until this formality has been complied with and noted in the declaration or other document.

(6.) The exportation of elephant's tusks and of pieces or stabs of ivory weighing less than 6 kilograms is prohibited.

ROYAL ORDINANCE OF DEC. 9, 1907, AS TO THE IMPORTATION OF ALCOHOLIC LIQUORS INTO THE SPANISH TERRITORIES IN THE GULF OF GUINEA.

(Gaceta de Madrid, No. 351, of Dec. 17, 1907.)

1. This Ordinance repeals the tax called "Municipal Health Tax," established by Decree of the Governor-General of the Spanish Territories in the Gulf of Guinea, dated Jan. 25, 1907, under which alcohol introduced into the Colony is liable to a duty of 1.50 pesetas per litre, on account of the Communal Councils.

2. In lieu of said tax, and in view of the necessity to restrain the importation and sale of alcoholic liquors in the island of Fernando-Po, the Communal Councils of the said island are at liberty, from the date of entry into operation of the new Customs Tariffs, viz., April 1, 1908, to levy, by way of Municipal surtax, a duty of 10% on the Customs duties chargeable on items 3, 6 and 7 of said Tariffs.

3. Sanction is given to the proposal of the Governor-General respecting the establishment of industrial licenses for spirit retailers, for the purpose of further restraining the trade and sale of spirits.

ROYAL ORDINANCE OF DEC. 27, 1907, AS TO THE IMPORTATION OF ALCOHOLIC LIQUORS.

(Gaceta de Madrid, No. 362, of Dec. 28, 1907.)

From and after Jan. 1, 1908, goods classed under Nos. 5, 6 and 7 of the Import Tariff shall be assessed by the Customs authorities of the Spanish Territories in the Gulf of Guinea, with the import duties established by Ordinance of Dec. 9, 1907, and with the surtaxes fixed in the Ordinance of the same date.

Liquors of the kind referred to shall continue to be treated under the Customs Tariff now in force if they are duly proved to have been shipped to this Colony prior to Jan. 1, 1908, on strict compliance with the following regulations:—

1. All consignments of alcoholic liquors entering the Territories, manifests of which shall prove that they left the ports of origin or of transit before Jan. 1, 1908, shall be admitted by the Customs under the conditions and fiscal treatment now in force in the Colony.

2. On the contrary, shipments effected after Dec. 31, 1907, shall be subject to the duties and surtaxes provided for in the above-mentioned Royal Ordinances.

3. Should the consignees (in the circumstances set forth in the foregoing rule) refuse to pay the new Customs duties and other taxes deriving therefrom, the landing of the spirits will not be allowed, and the same must be re-shipped to the ports of despatch on account and at the expense and risk of the persons who were to receive them in the Colony, subject, however, to the latter's right to legally claim, if they deem it, repayment of said expenses from the respective shippers.

CUSTOMS TARIFF LAW

[In force December 1, 1911.]

MONEY, WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.—The monetary unit in Sweden is the Krona, which is divided into 100 öre. For weights and measures Sweden has adopted the metric system.

(For schedule of rates and instructions on the application of the tariff see end of tariff.)

1 Articles imported from abroad, as regards Customs duty, subject to the provisions of the Tariff appended to this Law, unless otherwise provided below.

2 If the same article is subject to different rates of duty when arriving from different countries, the importer must, if he desires a rate of duty other than the highest prescribed to be imposed thereon, produce the proof which may be required in accordance with special regulations on the point, to show that the goods are legally entitled to the more favourable Customs treatment. Further regulations on this subject shall be issued by Royal Decree.

3 Articles which are imported in vessels belonging to other countries shall not, unless otherwise provided, be subject to higher rates of duty than similar goods when imported in Swedish vessels.

4 In addition to the articles which are exempted from duty in accordance with the Tariff, the following shall also be duty-free:—

Articles imported on account of the King or for members of the Royal Household; articles which Foreign Embassies, accredited to Sweden, import for their own use; legation arms, flags, and office requisites, and other similar articles for official use, which are imported for the Consulates in Sweden of foreign powers which, in their own countries, grant similar advantages to Sweden; articles imported for the land or sea forces which are not manufactured in Sweden, or which cannot be obtained in Sweden in view of the necessity that they should be procured without delay, provided each case which occurs receives Royal approval; clothing and bedding belonging to travellers or persons employed on vessels, when such clothing or bedding is requisited by the owner, is found to be not in excess of his personal requirements; requisites belonging to travellers, to persons employed on vessels, to the staff of trains, or to carriers, provided such requisites are found to be not in excess of their requirements during the journey, and so far as there is no reason for assuming that they are intended for other purposes; used cycles and used hand-carriage lanterns, which are imported, and which are stated in a written declaration on the traveller's word of honour, to be for his own use and not for trading purposes, shall also be included amongst such requisites; instruments, appliances, tools, and the like which are brought by persons engaged in the exercise of some science, art, or handicraft, for professional use, or which are specially imported by them, provided in the latter case that they give a written assurance on their word of honour that they are imported to be so used by them, and are not imported for purposes of trade; ships' stores and articles forming the equipment of vessels, including also household appliances belonging to vessels, provided such requisites and equipment can, in view of their nature and quantity, be reasonably regarded as intended for use on board the vessel in which they are imported, and so long as they remain on board; articles forming part of the equipment of wrecked vessels, also submarine trolleys when the trolleys, in pursuance of the special regulations made with regard thereto, is delivered by the proper Customs authorities to the finder; ships' stores brought on a vessel coming from abroad, so far as they are required for the use of the crew or the passengers, so long as the vessel does not, after concluding its voyage, proceed to another Swedish port in the home trade. It shall be incumbent on the Customs Administration at the place where the vessel calls during a voyage, or after it has cleared to a place abroad, to seal, and to specify on the manifest or on the Customs permit the portion of the supplies which has not paid duty, and which, in view of the number of the crew and passengers and of the length of the vessel's stay at such port, as well as the distance to the nearest port of call or to the open sea, cannot reasonably be regarded as required for the purpose stated. Such sealed stores, so far as they are not delivered for free use in accordance with preceding provisions, after being written off on the manifest or Customs permit, and provided they are not re-exported in due order, shall be subject to the ordinary rates of duty; ready-made household furniture and articles of clothing imported by a foreign subject or a Swedish subject domiciled abroad for at least one year, who, in consequence of marriage with a person in Sweden, renews either provided the conditions herein laid down are duly certified, and that the owner declares in writing on his or her word of honour that the goods were received as dowry or wedding presents in view of such marriage, and that circumstances do not exist to cast doubts on such statement; old and used linen, and articles and other objects when imported on behalf of persons immigrating from abroad or persons who, having been domiciled in Sweden, have resided abroad for at least one year, either intermittently or with occasional intervals only, provided in all cases that the owner certifies in writing on his word of honour that the conditions specified as entitling the goods to free admission exist, that he himself has used the articles in question, that they are imported for his own use and not merely for resale, and provided also that the Customs officer concerned finds that they are not in excess of the requirements of the owner, samples of goods which have no commercial value on importation, or which are rendered valueless when passing through the Customs; packing and receptacles in which goods are imported, unless they are to be included in the dutiable weight of the goods, or their form, appearance, or other circumstances show that they are not merely packages or other articles which can be used to a greater or less extent for other purposes; or that they consist of wooden material bound together to effect the ventilation of cargo packed on board vessels and so-called dunnage, such as mats, presses and similar goods clearly intended only for the protection of articles during transit, and not imported for trade purposes shall also be included as packing; oil and used packing materials, when imported separately, such as empty casks, tin cans, boxes and the like, when returned from abroad or imported to be re-exported with merchandise;

but this provision shall not apply to butter casks; articles produced or manufactured in Sweden, as well as foreign articles which have previously paid duty there, when re-imported in an unaltered state within 10 years after being exported. In case, however, drawback was allowed on such articles when exported or on the material used therein, such drawback shall be repaid to the Customs. If an article of Swedish manufacture or on casks or coverings in which they are evidently intended to be sold, there are marks indicating their Swedish origin, exemption shall not be obtained by persons other than the manufacturer, unless the importer either produces a statement of the manufacturer showing that he has no objection to raise against the exemption of the goods from duty, or otherwise makes it clear that no such objection can reasonably be expected on the part of the manufacturer or his legal representative; transport material imported only for temporary use in Sweden, such as railway vehicles, when used for importation or intended for the export from Sweden of merchandise and passengers; and also, under such conditions as the local Customs authorities may consider necessary in special cases, freight animals and vehicles which are evidently used only for the transport of merchandise or passengers to Sweden over the frontier and are immediately exported; insignia of orders granted by foreign states and the like; also exhibition medals or other prizes which have been granted in open competition abroad to persons domiciled in Sweden; coffins with bodies and urns with human ashes; also wreaths and the like accompanying them, as well as wreaths and flowers imported separately in commemoration of deceased persons; also natural history and ethnographical specimens for scientific collections; food-stuffs intended for, and imported simultaneously with, animals imported from abroad, in so far as such goods are shown not to exceed the animals' requirements during transport to the place to which the animals, in accordance with the accompanying documents, are finally destined, and providing that there is no reason to believe that the food-stuffs are intended for other purposes.

The special measures of control and general regulations which may be required to prevent the abuse of the exemption from duty accorded in virtue of this Section shall be issued by Royal Decree. Special provisions may also be issued in the same manner, so far as may be found necessary, with regard to vessels engaged in the home and foreign trade combined with a view to limiting the exemption from duty granted under "in respect of ships' stores."

5 The following small consignments of natural products or manufactures allowed to be imported, but subject to import duty, may be conveyed without payment of duty from Norway to Sweden over the portions of the frontier mentioned below on journeys other than those by rail, with the exception of playing-cards, which are subject to a stamp tax as well as duty, brandy and spirits, and beverages prepared therefrom, and also wine, which goods shall pay duty:—

Exemption from duty granted in virtue of these paragraphs shall not apply to articles imported for trading purposes, for ordinary purposes of sale, or to be supplied in payment of work performed, nor to articles imported by traders or on their account, provided they are of the kind in which they do business.

If the person concerned fails to give such a certificate, the articles shall be subject to duty in the ordinary way.

Special provisions shall be laid down showing how far sugar, which, in accordance with the preceding Section, may be imported free of Customs duty, shall also be exempted from the sugar tax.

6 If in districts on the frontier between Norway and Sweden any person owns or cultivates properties on both sides of the frontier, and such properties either abut directly on one another or are so situated that the distance between the nearest boundaries of such properties does not exceed three kilometres, such properties shall be treated as one, and the property situated in Sweden may be imported duty-free over the frontier.

7 The General Customs Administration, or in special cases the Customs Authorities on the frontier with Norway, shall issue such detailed regulations as they may consider necessary to prevent abuse of the privileges accorded in §§ 5 and 6.

8 Exemption from Customs duty may be allowed for short periods of fixed duration for:

Dutiable goods which are imported to be repaired or completed in Sweden and are intended for subsequent re-exportation; dutiable articles imported to be exhibited as samples or shown as public exhibits, provided that they cannot in themselves be regarded as imported for purposes of sale; for use as models in the manufacture of cast articles intended for export, provided they are re-exported together with such articles; for use in connection with organized competitions, or for occasional theatrical performances or circus exhibitions; or to be tested and subsequently re-exported; in the latter case, however, the exemption from duty shall be accorded to single articles only or to goods which cannot reasonably be regarded as imported for purposes of sale; and imported dutiable packing of textile materials, raw, in bulk, to be re-exported with their contents, and dutiable packing imported for the same purposes, provided it is of a kind which is not manufactured in Sweden.

Exemption from duty in accordance with the preceding paragraph shall not be allowed for a period longer than one year, and in case such exemption is granted on articles to be tested and subsequently re-exported, as well as in the case of packing materials, the period shall not exceed six months. Exemption from Customs duty as herein provided shall be granted by the General Customs Administration, which shall issue such measures of control as may be considered necessary to ascertain the identity of the imported and exported goods; it shall also be a condition for such exemption that the owner besides complying with the regulations in force, shall apply to him, on the receipt of the goods, to the goods deposit with the Customs the amount of duty liable or else furnish security approved by the Customs Administration for payment of such duty in case re-exportation does not take place within the period fixed by the General Customs Administration, or in case re-exportation is not duly shown to have taken place.

It shall be determined by Royal Decree how far and under what conditions exemption from duty for a definite period may in special cases be granted for machines, appliances, tools and other articles imported for use in railway or harbour construction, drainage works, electric installations, by public authorities, or otherwise, for the public benefit, when such goods are subsequently to be re-exported from Sweden.

The conditions under which travellers not domiciled in Sweden may use automobiles, which they bring with them and which are intended for re-exportation before the expiry of a period not exceeding one year, shall also be determined by Royal Decree.

Articles which are brought from Norway or Finland to Sweden by the frontier population for household use in order to undergo some process of improvement in Sweden, such as bleaching, dyeing, tanning, grinding, spinning, weaving, or other similar process, or for repair, and which are re-exported to the country of origin after undergoing such repair process, shall be exempted from Customs duty on importation, provided that the owner complies with the detailed regulations which may be issued by the General Customs Administration, or, in special cases, by the Customs authorities on the frontier, in order to prevent abuse.

Any special regulations as to exemption from duty which may be issued in regard to samples of goods brought from certain countries or accompanying commercial travellers from certain countries shall be observed.

9 Re-importation of goods exported in order to undergo repairs or other treatment abroad which does not alter their essential character may be allowed within a period not exceeding one year on payment of duty to the amount of 15 % of the cost of repair or improvement, provided that the goods do not, as a result of such treatment, become liable to duty under a more highly-taxed heading than that previously applicable to them; in the latter case, the difference in duty shall be paid instead. The General Customs Administration may grant the above-mentioned privileges, and make such regulations as may be necessary in connection therewith.

Articles which are conveyed from Sweden to Norway or Finland by the frontier population for household purposes in order to be improved by being bleached, dyed, tanned, ground, spun, woven, or by undergoing some other similar treatment, or else for repairs, and which are re-imported after such treatment or repair, may be exempted from Customs duty on re-importation, provided that the owner complies with the detailed regulations which may be issued by the General Customs Administration, or, in special cases, by the Customs Authorities on the frontier, in order to avoid abuse.

10 No reduction of the duty leviable in accordance with the Tariff shall be allowed on imported goods on account of any damage they have received, unless the owner of articles which have accidentally suffered damage during transport to the place of importation declines to accept such articles, in which case, the Customs duty, provided it is not assessed in the Tariff on the value of the goods, may be reduced in the proportion which the actual value of the goods bears to the value of similar goods in an undamaged state.

The owner who desires the preceding provision to be applied to his goods must make application for the purpose to the Customs Administration within two days after the expiry of the period within which the articles should be declared for duty under the Customs Regulations; and he must, within a period to be prescribed by the Customs Authorities, procure a satisfactory statement of the amount of the damage; after the value of the goods, both in their undamaged and in their damaged conditions, has been ascertained by the Customs Administration in accordance with the provisions of the Tariff Instructions as to the ascertainment of the value of goods, they shall be sold ex duty on behalf of the Customs at public auction, to be duly notified, and after deduction of the costs incurred by the Customs the amount thus obtained shall be handed to the owner within one year after the date of the auction, or else such amount, if not previously claimed, shall fall to the Crown; when the new owner pays duty on the articles, their value shall be taken as the amount produced by the sale, provided it is not less than the value placed on the damaged articles when valued, otherwise the value shall be taken as the latter amount.

It shall be determined by Royal Decree whether, and to what extent, duty leviable under the Tariff may be reduced for foreign goods which are salvaged from stranded vessels, or which form part of wreckage washed ashore, found at the bottom of the sea, or in the open sea.

11 Duty previously charged and paid shall not be refunded even if the goods are re-exported.

This provision shall not, however, apply in the case of articles which, when properly analysed, are found to contain arsenic or other poisonous substance in such quantities that they may not be put on sale in view of the regulations in force as to poisons, and are re-exported by the importer, or, in cases where there was apparent cause for exemption from duty in virtue of § 8, the articles are exported within three months after importation, and there appears no reasonable doubt as to the identity of the imported and exported goods.

12 Persons who construct, alter or repair in Sweden, vessels of more than 40 register tons, whether Swedish or foreign, shall be entitled to a refund of duty paid in respect of dutiable materials and requisites used therefor if imported from abroad, including articles of household furniture firmly fixed on the vessel, which cannot be separated therefrom without losing their utility, or which are shown by special and durable marking to be exclusively intended for use on such vessel; or, in case duty has not been paid but, as provided below, a bond therefor has only been furnished, such persons may enjoy exemption from payment. The following conditions must be complied with in each case:

The intention to use the imported goods for the purposes above specified shall be stated in writing when declaring them for assessment of duty; the vessel for which the articles are used must have been completed within three years from the date of the declaration; when the vessel is completed, the person who effected its construction, alteration or repair shall supply the General Customs Administration a statement on oath, attested by two of his assistants employed on the work in question, containing an accurate account of the quantity and nature of all the various articles used for the vessel (including any waste of materials resulting from the work) in respect of which drawback or exemption from duty is claimed, as well as a certificate on oath showing that the articles in question are of foreign origin and that the importer or repairer has been fully paid or a bond approved by the General Customs Administration furnished therefor, as well as particulars of the date of declaration, together with a statement whether they were declared from bonded warehouse or transit warehouse, from a free port or direct, showing in the latter case the method of conveyance when imported; as regards the certificate, the Customs authorities may, if so requested, be furnished showing that, on examination on board, they found the conditions laid down above for the grant of exemption to the articles in question were complied with; and the person effecting the construction, alteration or repair must submit to all other measures of control which the General Customs Administration may consider it reasonable to impose.

If the construction, alteration or repair is carried out by the owner of a building yard or engineering works and he desires to obtain a delay in paying the duty on the articles covered by this paragraph, until it is decided whether exemption from duty shall be allowed, he may, on making application to the General Customs Administration, be granted such delay if a bond which is regarded by the General Customs Administration as satisfactory is furnished for the payment of the duties; the provisions contained in section 32 of the Customs Law shall, so far as they are applicable, govern the right of the Customs after expiration of the period of the delay granted for the payment of such duties, to exact payment of the amount from such security.

The same privilege as accorded in first paragraph shall be applied under the above-mentioned conditions to persons who effect in Sweden the construction, alteration or repair of docks, dock gates, piers, or slips, whether for Swedish or foreign account.

The privilege in question, which may also be allowed in respect of the articles of export mentioned at the beginning of this (13) Section, in case the drawback therein provided is not regarded as an exact reimbursement of the Customs duty paid, shall be granted, after investigation, by means of a Royal Decree, which shall also contain details of the conditions on which it is granted. It shall, however, be regarded as having lapsed in the case of foreign raw material entering into the composition of goods for export which have not been exported or placed in drawback bond within one year after the declaration of the raw materials on import.

If the trader, to whom the privilege in question has been granted, desires to defer payment of duty on goods imported for the purpose stated above until it is decided whether exemption from such duty can be allowed, he shall be entitled to delay payment, provided that he applies stating the circumstances to the General Customs Administration, and furnishes a bond which the Administration regards as satisfactory, for the amounts he may have to pay to the Customs revenue.

If when such delay in payment of the duty has been granted, the articles for export have not been shipped abroad or deposited in drawback bond within the time and under the circumstances laid down for the grant of the privilege, duty must be paid to the Customs revenue together with interest at the rate of 6 ½ per annum from the time when the imported goods were declared to the Customs.

The portions of the provisions contained in Section 32 of the Customs Law, which are applicable, shall govern the right of the Customs to meet the duty and interest in question from the bond furnished after the expiration of the period of delay allowed in payment of the duty.

The provisions of this Section in respect of drawback or exemption from Customs duty on export shall also apply when the goods affected by such drawback or exemption are exported to a free port or admitted into a free warehouse in question from the bond warehouse, or when the goods by land shall be verified in such manner as is or may be specially laid down, but in the case of export by sea to a free port the stipulations previously laid down in this Section in regard to the verification of export to foreign ports shall apply so far as possible.

Drawback or exemption from Customs duty as provided in this Section may also be granted if the articles for export instead of being immediately shipped are warehoused in a staple town under Government lock in a special warehouse (drawback warehouse), installed for such purpose in a building supplied either by the State, or by the exporter and approved by the Customs.

If the owner of goods warehoused in such drawback warehouse wishes again to make use of them in Sweden, the drawback, together with interest at the rate of 6 ½ per annum from the date of payment, shall be repaid to the Customs Revenue. If drawback was not granted on the goods, the raw materials used therein being instead admitted from the Customs duty free, such drawback shall be paid to the Customs together with interest at the rate of 6 ½ per annum thereon from the date when the imported goods were declared to the Customs.

The same provision shall apply if the goods are not exported within one year after being warehoused in drawback warehouse, and the goods shall then be liable both to duty and interest.

Further provisions regarding drawback warehouses and the conditions under which they may be used shall be issued by Royal Decree.

If any person is found to have made statements not in accordance with the truth in order to obtain the drawback granted in accordance with the provisions of this Section, the right to obtain such drawback in future may be withdrawn from him.

14. Tonnage duties shall be paid to the Crown on voyages between Swedish and foreign ports at the rate of 10 öre for every ton of the vessel's dutiable burden, as shown in the tonnage measurement certificate, without distinction as to whether the vessels are Swedish or foreign. Such tonnage duties shall be paid in the course of a single calendar year on the following occasions:

On the first voyage onwards, and on every subsequent inland voyage, when the vessel carries cargo and discharges a greater or less portion thereof. In this connection, vessels shall be regarded as being in ballast when their cargo amounts to less than  $\frac{1}{10}$  of their dutiable burden. In calculating this, one ton shall be regarded as equivalent to 2.83 cubic metres in the case of goods which are entered in the ship's papers by volume, and 1,360 kilos, in the case of those entered by weight;

On the first outward voyage only.

When a vessel discharges and loads at several places, tonnage duties shall be paid only at the first port of loading or discharge, and a certificate of payment shall be entered on the manifest or Customs pass.

The following shall be exempt from the payment of tonnage duties:

Vessels destined or not to a Swedish port, which enter and clear in ballast.

One asterisk (*) placed before numbers and notes means that the whole is conventionalized.

Two asterisks (**) mean that the numbers and notes are partly conventionalized only, under Treaty with a foreign State.

Note.—Unless otherwise expressly determined, the conventional provisions result from the Commercial Treaty concluded with Germany on May 2, 1911.

The letters u.s.m. mean "not specially mentioned."

bers is wholly or partly nickelled, the duty shall be increased by 50%.

NOTES TO SECTION XIII. A.

*1.—The rates stated are applicable, unless otherwise provided, to machines, whole or in parts, even if any subordinate component parts are missing.
In declaring machines in parts for clearance or warehousing, the owner must supply an explanatory statement and specification of the parts together with a drawing, showing that the parts together form a machine, so far as these may be required for the guidance of the Customs.

*2.—The fact that a machine is imported in separate parts which arrive on different occasions shall not prevent the application of the rate applicable to the machine as a whole, if the importer so requires.

*3.—The further regulations required to give effect to the provisions of Note 1 and 2 shall be issued by Royal Decree.

*4.—Parts of machines, not specially mentioned, imported loose, shall pay as articles of the material of which they consist.

*5.—When different machines are imported joined together in such a way that they cannot be weighed separately, the weight must be ascertained at the cost of the owner by some other means which the Customs regard as satisfactory.
If they are joined by means of a common bottom-plate, this is to pay duty separately as the material, worked, of which it consists, provided it can be unfastened.

This provision in regard to the ascertainment of weight by some means other than direct weighing, shall apply also when the size of a machine renders the weighing apparatus available locally of no use in determining the weight.

*6.—Unless otherwise specially provided, the amount of duty payable on machines, apparatus and parts thereof, which are chargeable by weight, shall in all cases amount to at least 5% ad val.

On machines, apparatus and parts thereof, for which rates varying according to the weight payable are fixed, the duty may in no case amount to less than the amount payable on the most highly taxed articles in the group with the next lower weight.

INSTRUCTIONS TO BE OBSERVED IN APPLYING THE CUSTOMS TARIFF.

1.—Goods shall be assessed for duty in the state in which they are imported, but the following provisions shall be observed except where it has been otherwise provided in respect of certain articles.

Articles consisting of a mixture of components which are dutiable under various headings at different rates shall pay duty according to the provision in the Tariff applicable to the component paying the highest rate of duty. Component parts which are present in insignificant quantities only, and which have no essential effect on the nature of the goods, shall be left out of account unless they consist of spirit or ether, or there is reason for believing that they were mixed with the article with the object of preventing its paying duty at the proper rate.

Articles produced by some mechanical process which are combined from component parts dutiable under various Tariff headings at different rates of duty shall pay duty as a whole in accordance with their chief component, by which shall be understood the part which gives the goods their character (such as metal, glass, wood, leather, &c.). If, however, the Tariff in its provisions relating to the chief component contains a mention of such a combination as the goods present, and if also in case the chief component cannot be ascertained with certainty, the articles shall pay at the rate applicable to the component paying the highest rate of duty, but component parts which are required only for the practical use of the article, or which do not increase its commercial value to any sensible degree shall be left out of account. An article shall not be regarded as exempted merely for the reason that it contains such parts as nails, ordinary fittings, hinges, locks &c. which serve only to unite the different parts, to fasten it to some other object, or to increase its durability &c.

Composite articles, as referred to above, shall be dutiable as such even if they are taken to pieces when imported, and although some of the separate articles may be n.s.m.

When the Tariff imposes the same rate of duty on parts of an article as on the article as a whole, or otherwise contains provisions in regard to the Customs treatment of parts of certain goods, such provisions shall apply only to objects which are unambiguously intended for use as parts of such goods, and

As manufactured, altered, gilded, silvered or plated goods are to be included all articles which have undergone the process in question to any extent, however small, and as polished articles are to be included those which have been polished to a greater or less extent, so that the grinding marks are not visible.

2.—Duty when determined by the Tariff according to weight shall be calculated, unless otherwise specified, on the net weight of the goods, by which shall be understood their actual weight without packing.

As regards articles imported packed, the net weight shall be determined, as a rule, by weighing the goods gross, without unpacking or otherwise

VII.—TEXTILE AND PLATING MATERIALS—MADE-UP GOODS.

N.B.—Mixed yarns, tissues, plaits, coverings, carpets, ribbons and trimmings are, unless otherwise stipulated, dutiable as articles manufactured wholly of the component material subject to the higher duty.

However, in the classification for tariff purposes of tissues, coverings, carpets, ribbons, and trimmings, ordinary borders (jeans, stripes, selvettes &c.), threads or narrow strips marking the separating line between the several pieces; as well as ornamental threads which, though repeated at regular intervals appear only at intervals far apart and are of relatively very slight importance, are not taken into account either, even though they may be composed of more highly taxed materials.

Tissues, coverings &c. embroidered, of all kinds, are, unless otherwise specially stipulated, dutiable as embroidery according to the nature of the material upon which the embroidery is worked, whatever be the nature of the thread used for embroidering. Tissues less than 33 centimetres wide are dutiable as ribbons.

Preliminary note ad. VII. A. D.—The simplest manner to discern the difference between the fibres from animal produce (wool, silk, &c.) and vegetable fibres (cotton, flax, hemp, jute, &c.) is by combustion. To obtain a reliable result, it is necessary to free the fibres, by boiling, from any other heterogeneous substance, such as size, gum, colour, grease, &c. and also to free them from any dye by treating them in a weak solution of muriatic acid. Pure and dry vegetable fibres burn rapidly and are completely reduced to ashes, whilst animal fibres (wool, silk, &c.) carbonize without burning, curling themselves into small black knots and giving forth an odour of burning horn.

PRESCRIPTIONS RELATIVE TO THE COLLECTION OF THE STATISTICAL FEE.

Article 14 of the Federal law of October 10, 1902, concerning the Swiss Customs tariff reads as follows:

"To control the merchandise passing the Swiss Customs frontier, the following statistical fees will be collected:

The Federal Council is authorised to reduce the statistical fee collected in the railway traffic for complete wagonloads of one sole kind of goods, and to designate the class of goods to which the reduction of the fee shall be applicable, reserving however the right, at any time, to repeal the reduction granted."

This provision of the law must be construed as follows:

The merchandise mentioned is liable to the statistical fee:

IMPORTATION.

Under the exception mentioned below as to gold and silver articles and precious stones, and agricultural implements, all imported goods are liable to a duty of 11 %. This duty is levied according to the Valuation Tariffs, which are fixed by a agreement between the Customs Administration and the principal merchants concerned, and they may be denounced by the Customs Administration, or by the merchants (or any one of them), not less than 15 days before the lapse of the period for which they were framed. If not so denounced they remain in force for a further term. The imposition of foreign tonnage can only be effected by the tonnage administration.

OTTOMAN TERRITORY (CONSTANTINOPLE, ANATOLIA, &c., &c.). CUSTOMS REGIME AND IMPORT RESTRICTIONS.

The following notice shows the nature of the Customs treatment at present accorded to goods exported from this country to territories of the former Ottoman Empire. It is based on information received as a result of enquiries made in those territories. Generally speaking, imports into occupied territory (including Mesopotamia) pay 11 % ad val.—the rate of import duty applicable in Turkey before the war, while imports into territory remaining under Turkish control are subject to the rates of a specific Tariff enforced in 1916. Certain particulars as to the restrictions in force on the export of goods from, or the importation of goods into, those territories are also given.

CUSTOMS TARIFF.—Imports from the United Kingdom into territory still under the control of the Turkish Government (including Constantinople) are subject to the rates of the Specific Customs Tariff brought into operation by the Turkish Government in September, 1916, which Tariff is now being applied provisionally with the approval of the Allied High Commissioners in Constantinople. The Tariff in question is a specific Tariff, duties being levied in gold piastres per unit of weight or measurement.

Excise duties are also levied on alcohol and alcoholic beverages, as follows:—

Alcohol imported for manufacture of beverages, 5 paras per litre and 10 per degree.

Imported beverages, above 12 deg. in alcoholic strength, 5 paras per litre and per degree in excess of 12.

Leaf tobacco.

Arms and munitions of war, gunpowder, dynamite and other explosives; loaded cartridges of all kinds; miners' fuses.

Goods not legally current in Turkey.

Cocaine and its salts.

It is understood that the same Customs duties and Customs control generally is applied at Turkish ports under Greek and Italian occupation (Smyrna, Adalia, &c.), as at ports under Turkish control.

APPENDIX.
Supplementary Explanations on Certain Points.
(Treaty with Great Britain)

The following explanations were also given by the Japanese Ambassador with regard to certain items and notes of the new Statutory Tariff of Japan:

1. Those cotton tissues which are known in the trade as "scoured" or "washed" tissues will not be dutiable as "bleached tissues" so long as natural colour is retained.

2. Note 4 of Group IX. of the Japanese Tariff is intended to apply to the counting of threads constituting such tissues as have figures, stripes or other designs. In case the number of threads is unequal in different parts of one piece, owing to imperfections in weaving, the mean of the number of threads in several parts of the tissue will be taken for the purpose of tariff classification. Fractions of threads, that is, threads which touch one of the sides of the counting-glass along its whole length will not be counted.

3. "Elementary threads" in Note 4 means single threads—for instance, a two-fold yarn would be counted as two threads, and not as one thread, and does not mean those particular threads in the body or bulk of the cloth which are commonly known in England as "clonatory threads." Consequently, in counting threads in tissues which have a design or border, the "elementary threads" would be counted wherever they happen to be most numerous, whether it be in the design or border or in the body of the tissue.

As regards Note 5, the correct interpretation is that a figured tissue, such as would pay duty under No. 298 (S), is one which has a design or repeat constituted by interlacing more than twenty warp threads with more than twenty weft threads. For the purpose of counting the said threads, twisted yarns consisting of two or more single yarns, or yarns put together to act as one, would be counted as one thread. It is clear, however, that this method of counting will only be used in ascertaining whether a tissue should pay duty as a figured tissue or not, and not for the purpose of counting threads as set forth in Note 4.

4. The term "iron" in No. 162 of the new Japanese Customs Tariff includes both iron and steel.

5. Caustic soda produced on a manufacturing scale and being the ordinary caustic soda of commerce, such as that styled 60%, 70%, and 76-77%, will not be classed as refined, and will be subject to duty under Tariff No. 163 (2).

Explanations on Certain Points
(Treaty with Germany.)

As regards Group IX of the Japanese Statutory Tariff: "The quality of the selvages is not taken into consideration in assessing duty, save in cases when they are expressly made for the purpose of ornamenting the main tissue."

As regards Group XVI of the Japanese Statutory Tariff: "In case all the parts of an unfitted machine are imported at the same time, the aggregate import duties to which they are liable are not to be higher than the import duty to which the fitted machine would be subject."

"In case all the parts are not imported at the same time, provided proof be furnished that such parts when put together make up one and the same machine."

As regards No. 550 of the Japanese Statutory Tariff: "Dynamoes combined with motive machinery, if imported separately, are to be dutiable, at the option of the importer, at the rates laid down for separate machines."

DRAWBACKS.

Article IX. of the Customs Tariff Law provides for the refund of the whole or part of the duty levied on the raw material used in the manufacture of goods for export.

The following schedule, showing the drawback rates allowed by the Japanese Government, is based on the Imperial Ordinance No. 265 of September 28, 1906, as amended by the Imperial Ordinance No. 197 of July 13, 1911. In the case of specific drawback rates allowed on sugar and oils of soy beans, seeds of Perilla acuminata, and rapeseed the rates are based on the quantities of raw material employed in the manufacture of the finished products exported. In the case of all other articles the drawback rates are calculated on the quantities of raw material actually contained in the finished products exported. For ad valorem rates the value is calculated from the duty levied upon the importation of the raw material actually contained in the finished products exported. No domestic raw materials may be used in the manufacture of oils of soy beans, seeds of Perilla acuminata, or rapeseed, on which a drawback allowance for imported raw material is claimed; similarly in the case of refined sugar, domestic raw materials may be used only after the permission of the proper authorities has been obtained.

Application for the refunding of duty on imported raw materials must be made at the custom house through which the manufactured article has been exported. Application for drawback allowance may be for raw materials included in Class I, must be made within the following time limits: For materials included under No. 1, one year; under Nos. 2-7, two years; under No. 8, three years. In the case of the material included under No. 8 the time limit may be extended for another year if the proper authorities should consider it necessary to do so.

The new schedule went into effect July 17, 1911. In the case of articles included under Class I, exported before June 30, 1912, the drawback rates are to be calculated in accordance with the schedule of September 28, 1906, in the case of raw materials included under Class II, imported before the new schedule went into effect, the drawback allowance is to be based on the old schedule, and no duty is to be refunded for raw materials not included in the old schedule. The refund of duty on imported dyestuff used for preserving fish shall be made in accordance with the old schedule, provided authorization for the use of such oil had been obtained from the proper authorities prior to the date on which the present ordinance went into effect.

I.—ANNEXATION OF COREA TO JAPAN.

A treaty concluded on the 22nd August, 1910, between Japan and Korea for the complete annexation of Korea to the empire of Japan.

The treaty took effect from the day of its promulgation on the 29th August, 1910.

Independently of any conventional engagements formerly existing on the subject, the Imperial Government of Japan will, for a period of ten years, levy upon goods imported into Korea from foreign countries or exported from Korea to foreign countries, and upon foreign vessels entering any of the open ports of Korea, the same import or export duties and the same tonnage dues as under the existing schedules.

The same import or export duties and tonnage dues as those to be levied upon the aforesaid goods and vessels will also, for a period of ten years, be applied in respect of goods imported into Korea from Japan or exported from Korea to Japan, and Japanese vessels entering any of the open ports of Korea.

The Imperial Government of Japan will also permit for a period of ten years, vessels under the flags of Powers having treaties with Japan, to engage in the coasting trade between the open ports of Korea, and within those ports and any open ports of Japan.

The existing open ports of Korea, with the exception of Masampo, will be continued as open ports and, in addition, Shin-Wijn will be newly opened, so that vessels, foreign as well as Japanese, will there be permitted and goods may be imported into and exported from those ports.

CHAPTER I.

Art. 1.—The present code of regulations determines the customs duties in the Persian Empire.

Art. 2.—All articles, merchandise and produce (excepting such as are exempted from duty) are subject to duty whenever they are imported or exported, unless it be proved to the satisfaction of the Customs Board that the goods are such articles, merchandise or produce have already been paid on the occasion of some previous importation or exportation.

Art. 3.—The merchandise imported into Persia and coming from a country enjoying "the most-favoured-nation" treatment is subject only to the payment of the customs duties fixed by the tariff legally in force, and the dues enumerated in Art. 7 of the present Code of Regulations.

All other imposts or dues, such as estrol, "Kharak," "Meydan" and like, are abolished for all time. All the dues of "anghiani" that have been collected hitherto for the maintenance of roads are likewise abolished, nor shall any new ones be established, under the form of road dues, tolls, except on carriage roads, which necessitate the employment of skilled labour, and for which a concession has already been or may hereafter be granted by special Firman.

Art. 4.—The duties levied on goods, otherwise than ad valorem, are calculated on the basis of the number, weight or measure, as determined by the officials of the Customs Board.

In the case of goods upon which the duty is levied ad valorem, such duty is calculated on the value declared by the parties concerned in accordance with the rules laid down in Arts. 17, 18 and 19 following.

Art. 5.—Customs duties are payable in cash prior to the removal of the goods.

Art. 6.—The goods are held as security for the customs duties, nor can the customs officer in any case consent to the removal of the goods before the said duties as well as the other dues fixed by Art. 7 have been paid.

CHAPTER II. The Customs Tariff.

Art. 7.—The duties to be collected by the customs are as follows:—

(1) Customs duties on goods imported. (Droits d'Entrée.)

(2) Customs duties on goods exported. (Droits de Sortie.)

(3) Office dues.—The office dues, apart from the customs duties, are fixed at 2 krans per sheet of the declaration application, request or other document whatsoever, presented to the customs by the parties concerned.

(4) Seal and label dues.—For each label seal affixed by the customs officer shall be 3 chas, and for each wax seal 1 chas.

For each check label affixed by the customs on the packages, bottles, or other receptacles containing merchandise subject to this tariff, the charge shall be 1 chas, and for each check label affixed to parcels examined in order to permit of their being removed from the customs, 1 chas.

(5) Dues for the custody of goods in custom-house storage rooms, sheds and enclosures, and in the storage rooms of public warehouses.—Goods deposited in storage rooms, sheds and enclosures where the customs assumes the responsibility for their safe keeping (see Art. 89 and following) are subject to warehouse dues.

These dues are reckoned for the whole of the time during which the articles lie on customs premises, dating from the day of their inspection, and in any case from a day not later than the last of the term fixed for the presentation of the documents of inspection.

Merchants are entitled to request that their goods be deposited according as they may desire, either in the storage rooms or in the sheds, or simply in the enclosures of the custom-house (under tarjagha, &c.) covering or without covering.

Exception however is made in the case of (a) Parcels containing articles of value, such as objects composed partly of gold or silver, jewels, watches, silk fabrics, also all small parcels weighing less than 2 batmans which must always be deposited in the closed storage rooms. (b) Goods which are really inflammable, dangerous, noxious, or such that their proximity might cause injury to other goods; such goods shall not be admitted to the storage rooms and can only be accommodated in the sheds or the enclosures.

The warehouse dues are fixed as follows: (a) For goods deposited in closed storage rooms: (1) for carpets, woven fabrics, threads, clothing, groceries, liquids intended to be drunk, &c., coffee, food products and furniture—for the first 30 days, dating from the day fixed as above, 6 chas per 10 batmans with a progressive increase of one-fifth chas per day until the sixth day; (2) for other goods deposited in closed storage rooms the dues are at the rate of one-third of those stated in (1).

(b) For goods of all kinds deposited in sheds or under (tarjagha, &c.) covering the dues are at the rate of one-fifth of those stated under (1).

(c) For goods not covered (with tarjagha, &c.) and deposited in unroofed premises as well as for naphtha and petrol, the dues are at the rate of one-tenth of those stated under (1).

At the expiration of the term of 90 days, the goods must be transferred from the storage rooms of the custom-house of entry to those of a bonded warehouse.

Goods deposited in the storage rooms of public bonded warehouses are subject to the payment of dues at the rate of one-sixth chas per day and per 10 batmans of goods in respect of their entry into the said storage rooms.

(d) Dues for the handling of goods.—These dues are fixed by a special tariff to be agreed upon between the customs and the parties concerned.

(e) Dues for use of cranes belonging to the customs.—In those ports where there are cranes owned by the Government, dues are charged for the use of such cranes at the rate of 1 chas per 100 batmans, with a minimum of 1 chas per parcel.

(f) As compensation for the expense incurred by the Customs Board for the maintenance of bonded warehouses, proprietors of such warehouses shall pay a charge of 5 krans per working day in which the attendance of customs officers has been necessary.

(g) It is to be understood that in the case of the above-named dues, the amount payable shall never be less than 1 chas, and that any fraction of a chas shall always be counted as a whole chas.

Art. 8.—In the event of the exchange rate of the krans in relation to the French franc falling by more than 10 per cent, and continuing at such low rate for more than a month, the Persian Government shall have the right, after the fact shall have been confirmed by the principal banks, to raise proportionately the rates of the specific duties as fixed by the tariffs in force.

In the event of a rise in the rate of exchange of the krans exceeding 10 per cent, and of such rate being maintained for more than a month, any proposal for the proportional reduction of the said tariffs shall come from the foreign countries interested and the Persian Government shall be bound to grant the said reduction.

Art. 9.—The specific duties inscribed in the tariff shall be levied in full on the quantities presented for importation or exportation, without any reference to the quality, the relative value, or to the state of the merchandise.

Where, however, satisfactory proof is forthcoming as to circumstances whereby the goods have suffered deterioration in the course of transport, and where it is seen that there is no fraudulent intent, the declarer or owner may demand the sorting out and destruction, or else the re-exportation, of the damaged goods.

Remark.—Furthermore, in exceptional cases, especially where the goods have been damaged in course of transport, reductions of duties, proportionate according to the gross weight, may be accorded, not only with the intervention of the Central Customs Board.

Art. 10.—In the case of goods tariffed by number, or by ascertained weight, the amount of duty payable when greater or smaller quantities are being dealt with, shall be proportionate to the rates set forth in the tariff, just as if this proportion had been specified for each article. The duties are levied in the same proportion in the case of goods tariffed according to value.

Art. 11.—The unit of weight for goods tariffed by weight is the karman, called the Tamir batman of 640 Persian miscalis, equivalent to 7.27 Russian lbs. and to 2 kilos, 370 French grammes.

Art. 12.—The duties on such goods as are stated in the tariffs to be dutiable according to the gross weight, are calculated on the gross weight of the goods, including the weight of such packings as, according to the usages of commerce, reach the buyers together with the goods, e.g., the cans, kegs, bottles, jars or flasks containing liquids, pots and boxes, paper or cloth envelopes and packings of any other kind, which cannot be separated from the goods without damaging them or changing the form under which they are generally presented for wholesale or retail trade.

Art. 13.—As regards the other goods which are dutiable by weight, and which are mentioned in the tariff as being liable according to the gross weight, the importers shall be required to stipulate in their declaration whether they desire that the duties be reckoned according to the real net weight, i.e., according to weight of the goods stripped of all packings; or according to the legal net weight, i.e., according to the combined weight of the goods and all their packings, after deduction of the legal tare.

Where no such choice is stated in the declaration, the duties shall always be calculated according to the legal net weight.

Art. 14.—The legal tare on goods tariffed by weight is fixed as follows:—

(1) For earthenware, porcelain, glassware, unframed mirrors and window glass, 40 per cent of the aggregate gross weight.

(2) For all other goods: (a) in chests or casks 20 per cent of the aggregate gross weight; (b) in hampers, "canisters" or other leather packings, 8 per cent of the aggregate gross weight; (c) in ironing, sacks or other similar packings, 3 per cent of the aggregate gross weight.

The tare is not applicable to packings which only partially cover the goods, as, for example, those consisting of rell-work, boards, &c.

The declarer is required to present the goods for examination, stripped of their packings, and are also required to repack them; the Customs Board assuming no responsibility for any loss or damage resulting from such operations, it being understood that these have been carried out under the instructions of the declarer.

It, however, the declarer should present the original invoices or accounts of the manufacturers or wholesale dealers, or statements specifically describing the nature, weight and value of the goods contained in each parcel, the customs authority shall deem it sufficient to satisfy itself for the purpose of examination of one or more parcels according to the importance of the commitment and to cause the same to be opened.

But if it should be found that the kind, weight or value of the goods, as ascertained by this sample inspection, differs to an extent exceeding 5 per cent from the kind, weight or value as returned in the declaration, the customs shall require that all the parcels be opened.

Art. 16.—In the case of all products imported or exported in bulk, the importer or exporter shall give the net weight in the prescribed declaration.

In the case of goods, free of duty, imported or exported in parcels, the importer or exporter shall declare the gross weight of the parcels, the customs officials will estimate the net weight by deducting from the gross weight the tare fixed by Art. 14.

Art. 17.—In the case of goods tariffed according to value, the importer shall state in writing, the value upon which they desire the duties to be calculated.

Art. 18.—Where goods of different value are contained in one and the same parcel, the importer shall declare their values separately, if they are tariffed according to value.

Where, however, the goods in question consist of sub-varieties or many wares, which are somewhat akin to each other, or which form an assortment, the value of which does not exceed 100 tomanis, it will be sufficient to declare the total value.

Art. 19.—The value to be declared at the customs is that of the goods in their place of origin or production, in gross, exclusive of packing, purchase, insurance and transport to the place of importation or exportation.

Art. 20. If the customs authorities consider the declared value to be insufficient, they may, at their discretion, require the declarator to sign a supplementary declaration, or they may even retain the goods, paying to the persons concerned the value which they themselves have declared, with an additional 10 per cent. as indemnity.

The customs shall make the said payment as soon as possible, and not later than 15 days after the time when the pre-emption shall have been notified to the declarator.

Art. 21. If the person concerned should so request, the goods pre-empted may be referred to him on payment of the additional duties and the 10 per cent. together with a fine the amount of which shall be fixed according to the circumstances by the Collector of Customs of the District, or upon appeal, by the Central Board.

The fine shall not exceed 10 per cent. of the difference between the price of the goods as declared by the owner and that estimated by the customs.

Art. 22. Goods pre-empted, which have not been restored to the persons concerned, shall be sold for the benefit of the Government. The sum paid to the persons concerned, as also the duty and cost, shall be deducted from the total sum realised by the sale, and the surplus, if any, shall be paid into the State Treasury.

Art. 23. In the event of changes in the tariff, the tariff to be applied shall be that in force at the time of registration of the goods at the first import or export custom-house.

Art. 24. In the event of presentation for import into Persia, of goods, the classification of which cannot be precisely determined, or which have not been mentioned in the tariff, the Central Customs Board may order that for the purposes of the tariff, such goods be treated as belonging to the class to which they are nearest akin.

Art. 25.—All disputes concerning the application of the import or export tariff, which arise between the persons concerned and the customs officers, shall be judged, in the first instance, by the Provincial Collectors of Customs through the intervention of the Consul of the Power of which the owner of the goods is a subject, or of the deputy of such Consul.

It shall always be open to the latter to appeal against the decision arrived at, in which case the dispute shall come before the Central Customs Board at Teheran, where final judgment shall be given at the intervention of the Minister representing the Power of which the owner of the goods is a subject, or at the intervention of the deputy of such Minister.

Art. 26.—Whenever the examining officers of the customs are in doubt as to the nature or quality of any article of merchandise submitted for their examination, they shall defer the admission of the said article, having first referred the question to the Local Collector of Customs. These officers shall take a sample of the goods in question, and the said sample, together with a report furnishing all the data necessary for the purpose of solving the difficulty, shall be forwarded to the Provincial Collector of Customs within whose jurisdiction the decision of the question lies.

Should it be remonstrated, however, that the declaration has been made in good faith, the person concerned shall be authorised, if he make application to that effect in writing, to take immediate possession of the goods, provided that he deposit a sum equal to the highest duty the customs may deem applicable to such goods, and provided further that he undertake to comply in all respects with whatever decision may have been arrived at after the dispute shall have been adjudicated upon in conformity with the procedure set forth in the preceding Article.

CHAPTER III.—Exemptions from Customs Duty.

Art. 27. In addition to the goods which are declared by the tariffs to be exempt from customs duty, the following also are dispensed from the payment of such duty:

(1) Articles imported from abroad or exported thither on behalf, and by order, of His Majesty the Shah.

(2) Canes or other beasts of burden, as also tents, carpets or other articles necessary for persons travelling towards, or returning from, holy places, provided such articles be really their personal property, and not trading stock.

(3) Articles imported for the personal use of the representatives of foreign Powers accredited to His Majesty the Shah. The privilege of this exemption is extended also to the staffs of such Missions, that is to say, to the chamberlains, Secretaries, Interpreters and Student Interpreters attached to the Embassies or Legations, as well as to the professional members of the Consular Corps, Consuls, Vice-Consuls, and their interpreters or foreign secretaries, duly accredited to the Persian Government.

In order to be admitted as free of duty, the consignment must be accompanied by a declaration from the addressee, specifying the numbers and the marks of the articles, and also, if possible, their quantity and value.

The addressee must also certify on such declaration that the articles are for his personal use.

In localities where different grades of officers of the Diplomatic or Consular Corps reside, such statement must be signed by the chief of such division or Consulate.

The declaration shall be accompanied by an import permit for use at the customs in question, which shall, as a rule, be of a cursory nature, that is to say, limited merely to the external identification of the parcels and their marks.

Where, however, there is grave suspicion of abuse, the parcels may be retained, and the Local Collector of Customs shall refer them to the Central Board, which shall decide as to their admission, having previously arrived at an understanding with the Minister or the representative of the country concerned.

Whatever is liable may be imported by foreign officials only shall be exempted.

All these advantages and privileges shall pertain only to the Diplomatic or Consular Offices of countries where the Diplomatic and Consular Officer of His Majesty the Shah enjoy in this respect the rights of the Consul of a country, similarly, all correspondence officers, whether containing value or not, and portable articles of the Embassies, Legations and Consulates of foreign Powers, coming from, or sent, abroad by post, or by special messenger, shall be exempt from all inspection.

It is to be understood, however, that the exemption from inspection shall not extend to any bags, envelopes or parcels not bearing official marks, which messengers of Legations or Consulates may take with them.

(4) The baggage of travellers, including clothes and personal effects for the use of such travellers, with the exception of new articles and of those which might be considered as trading stock.

Without an authorisation from the Central Customs Board, this exemption shall not apply to baggage imported more than two months after the arrival of the traveller himself.

(5) Foreign travellers, provided with a passport in due order for the crossing of the frontier, are authorised by import, free of duty, such quantities of provisions or articles as are intended for their personal use, but the total amount of the exemption per passport shall not exceed 24 tomans.

(6) Clothes, holy linen, bed linen and table linen, as also articles of furniture of all kinds (but not drinks, produce, merchandise or trading stock imported by persons coming to settle in Persia), provided such articles be not new and bear evident marks of wear.

(7) Articles of furniture, such as carpets, and articles of the lands situated on the territory of the Empire near the frontiers, and article sold by the inhabitants of Persia to pasture on the lands situated on the frontiers outside Persia.

(8) Merchandise of native origin or manufacture, returning from abroad either because it has been refused or not sold there, or because it has not been admitted owing to a prohibition or to some other unavoidable hindrance.

(9) Bags containing postal despatches or correspondence, with the express exception of bags or packages containing parcels-post or samples-post, are free from inspection and other customs formalities, provided they be closed and sealed by a foreign post office and remitted to the officers of the postal administration of Persia.

CHAPTER IV.—Prohibitions.

Art. 28.—Importation of the following articles is prohibited:—

(1) Fire-arms of all kinds.

(2) Ammunition for all kinds of fire-arms, such as powder, cartridges, percussion caps, projectiles, &c., as also, in general, all simple or compound explosive products having a detonating power equal to, or greater than, that of ordinary gunpowder, with the sole exception of fireworks.

(3) Money, other than of gold or silver.

(4) Dry or liquid aniline dyes, also all dry or liquid dyes in which aniline forms an ingredient.

(1) Carpets, dyes, by means of aniline dyes or by means of dyes in which aniline forms an ingredient.

Art. 30.—In execution of the prohibitions mentioned in Art. 28 of the present Code of Regulations, the importation or exportation of other goods may be prohibited, either in the interests of the safety of society, or in order to prevent the exportation of products which it might be necessary, for the time being, to hold in reserve in order to assure the public food supply.

Art. 31. The Shah-Azam, or Prime Minister, is also authorised to grant, in special cases, exemption from Art. 28, which forbids the importation of fire-arms, ammunition and explosives.

Each such authorisation, conformably to the notes appended to Nos. 3 and 33 of the Tariff (1), shall stipulate the amount of the exemption dues to be paid to the import custom-house, and, as regards explosives, the precautions to be observed by the persons concerned in effecting the transport of the same across country.

Art. 32.—All importation, as well as all exportation, or attempted exportation, in contravention either of Arts. 28 and 29, or of a special order issued in accordance with Art. 30 of the present Code of Regulations, shall involve the seizure and the confiscation of the goods.

Furthermore, where goods, prohibited for import or export, have not been declared or regularly presented at the custom-house, or where the said goods have been concealed amongst other goods or in any other manner whatsoever, the transporters or declarators shall incur, conjointly, and subject to the right of any of them to recover from the others, a fine equal to the value of the goods, independently of the seizure and confiscation of the prohibited goods as well as of the goods which have served to conceal them. In the case of importation or exportation by routes not leading to a custom-house, the fine shall be double the value of the goods, and the means of transport, ships, boats, beasts of burden or carriages, as well as the other goods imported or exported at the same time, shall be confiscated.

Furthermore, those persons who are the authors or accomplices of such fraud shall be punished with one year's imprisonment.

Art. 34.—Any person against whom it shall in any way be proved that he has participated in the importation or exportation of prohibited goods, whether by the ordinary means of import or export, or in any other manner, shall be liable to the same penalties as those who have directly violated the prohibition enacted by the present Code of Regulations.

The value of the confiscations and the amount of the fines thus incurred shall be recoverable on all the property, movable or immovable, owned by the guilty persons. The prosecution to be undertaken in virtue of the present Article shall however, be notified officially to the delinquents not later than two years from the day on which the delinquent act was committed.

Art. 35.—The goods distrained or confiscated in virtue of Arts. 32, 33 and 34 of the present Code of Regulations shall be sold for the profit of the Imperial Treasury, with the exception of:—

(1) Aniline dyes, also papers, books, prints and images contrary to religion, morals and good customs.

Such articles shall always be burnt or destroyed publicly, not later than the day after their seizure, in presence of the Collector of Customs, the Governor or his deputy, and of any other persons whom it may have been possible to call together.

An official record of the destruction shall be drawn up on the spot and aid by all the persons present. A copy of this record shall be sent to the person against whom the seizure has been effected, and another forwarded immediately by the Collector of Customs to the Customs Board at Teheran.

(2) Money, other than that of gold or silver, fire-arms and ammunition for the same, shall be sent, as soon as possible, to Teheran, to the address of the Central Customs Board for transmission to the Imperial Palace.

Art. 36.—Any official or employee of the Government who shall be convicted of having permitted, tolerated or in any way favoured the importation or exportation of prohibited goods shall be punished with imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, according to the gravity of the offence. Further, his property, movable and immovable, shall be subject to distraint for the payment of a sum equal to double the amount of the fines any confiscations declared by the preceding Articles to be incurred by the authors of similar frauds.

Art. 37.—Rewards in money, to be provided out of the amount of the fines and confiscations, may be granted by the Customs Board to officers and employees who shall have discovered or proved any contraventions of the present Code of Regulations, and also to any person who shall have given information to the Board in consequence of which such contraventions may have been discovered.

Art. 38.—Any contravention of Arts. 28, 29 and 30 of the present Code of Regulations shall be notified by a declaration drawn up in duplicate and signed by not less than two employees, and such contraventions shall be followed up at the suit of the Customs Board, which shall be competent to collect the fines and the amounts of the confiscations, and to direct the corporal punishment incurred. One of the copies of the declaration shall be handed to the principal delinquent, who shall sign or seal an acknowledgment of receipt of the same, and the other shall be sent as on as possible to the Customs Board, which shall be competent to allow reduction of the penalties, if there be circumstances which justify the exercise of clemency.

CHAPTER V.—Concerning Imports.

General Rules.

Art. 39.—No goods shall be imported except at places where Customs-houses are established for the collection of import and export duties, in conformity with the table hereto annexed.

The suppression of an existing Customs-house or the establishment of a new one shall be effected by a special decree which shall be brought to the notice of the Legation concerned.

Art. 40.—At the import Customs-house, the importer shall forward to the Local Collector of Customs a written declaration in duplicate, either in Persian or in French, drawn up after the model annexed to the present Code of Regulations and containing an accurate description of the goods.

This declaration shall specify :

(3) The nature of the goods contained in such parcels, as also the nature of any goods loaded in bulk, the weight or measure of the goods, their value, and the place to which they are being sent.

(4) Every Customs declaration must be signed or sealed. If, however, the person concerned should be illiterate, the declaration may be made out for him by some other person who, in such case, shall certify the authenticity of the seal or sign affixed by the declarator.

In the case of small quantities of goods, however, the Customs-house is empowered to accept verbal declarations.

GENERAL RULES FOR APPLICATION OF TARIFF

1.—In order to determine the import duty leviable on the goods mentioned in the Custom Tariff, the officer should examine most carefully the raw material or materials composing the goods; the form and the use for which the goods are intended; the name under which they are known in the trade; the quality and the name under which such goods fall, in accordance with denominations of this Tariff, by reason of the raw material, form, use and ultimate destination of such goods.

2.—Manufactured articles composed of one or several materials, which are not expressly detailed in this Tariff, shall be liable to duty calculated on the material which is liable to the higher rate under this Tariff, unless the material liable to the lower rate exceed 75 per cent. of the weight

5.—Including weight of packing shall be understood to mean the weight of the goods together with covers, wrappings, materials, casks, bottles, cardboard boxes, wooden cases or boxes, tins or cans, in which the goods are packed within the outer case used as a general container.

Whenever articles or commodities liable to duty including weight of packing, arrive separately or in heaps or bulk, or in cases which are liable to Tariff separately, such articles or commodities shall be liable to an extra duty of 10 per cent.

Covers and wrappings shall be understood to be objects of no value.

6.—As regards goods on which duty is payable per unit, measure, net weight or including weight of paper wrappings, duty on the containers in which such goods arrive, shall be charged according to the class under which such containers are described in the Tariff.

In the case of goods liable to duty on gross weight arriving in double cases for greater protection, the weight of the outer case shall be excluded.

11.—Casks, bottles or earthenware or glass flasks, iron drums, wooden, earthenware or tin cases, etc., shall be deemed to be common or ordinary packing, provided always they are especially adapted to the goods contained therein and are not of themselves articles which add to the value of the contents or require any special separate use.

12.—Whenever goods contained in common outer packing are liable to duty on the net weight or number, such packing shall not pay any import duty; however, if the goods contained therein are liable to duty reckoned on the gross weight, then the aforesaid common packing shall be liable to duty on the same rates as appertain to the goods contained therein.

13.—As regards packing not coming under the description given in Article No. 11 and when it is clearly seen that such packing is not exclusively suitable for the goods contained therein, and that such packing possesses a merchantable value of its own, being a class of packing of like or suitable for some other use than put in the case of the goods in question, then such packing shall be liable to such duty as provided therefor in the Tariff and should be so declared in order to permit assessment of duty.

14.—Whenever there arrive effects used as outer or inner packing, which are liable to duty according to the Tariff, such as money boxes, trunks, overlay mattresses, furniture, etc., the same should be declared and shall be liable to such duty as is leviable thereon without being considered in such instances as packing material.

15.—Cloths (or fabrics) which arrive used for the purpose of affording protection for goods, inside parcels, should be declared and shall be liable to such duty as is leviable thereon according to the Tariff, whatever be the quantity or class thereof, with the exceptions of oilskins and tarpaulins (i.e. oil and tarred fabrics) the sole object of which being to protect goods against dampness from the exterior and which arrive in such quantity as is indispensable for this purpose.

22.—Jewels (or articles of value) and manufactured goods of all descriptions upon which duty is leviable on the basis of the net weight, whenever the same arrive contained in cases, should be declared as such in order that they may be assessed in accordance with the provisions of the Tariff, with the exception of such articles provided for in Tariff specifically as "cases."

23.—Shall be considered as "cases," wooden or cardboard boxes lined with cloth or leather, also boxes which are varnished, painted, adorned or lined inside with leather or cloth, suitable to contain one or several objects in the corresponding divisions or compartments.

24.—Whenever there is any doubt as to the material of which imitation jewellery is made, thus making it difficult to determine the class thereof, the duty shall be paid according to the highest rate.

25.—Under the description of articles for domestic use, the Tariff shall be meant to provide solely for articles intended for use on the table, in the kitchen or wash room.

25.—For the purpose of free clearance of the articles comprised in schedules Nos. 53 and 55, there should be produced an order from the "Ministerio de Hacienda" (Treasury), the same provision applying to the delivery of goods which are exempt from duty by reason of contract made with the Government.

26.—Articles belonging to operatic, theatrical or circus companies or other public entertainment concerns, and which are liable to duty, shall be admitted free provided always that there be given in due form an undertaking to take them out again from the country within a term of six months.

27.—Whenever chemical or pharmaceutical products bear on the outer container a label describing the contents as being different to description given in the declaration, even in the case of the goods being actually found in accord with the declaration, there shall always be levied the highest rate of duty either if the latter is applicable to the goods described in the declaration or to the commodity mentioned in the label.

28.—Whenever goods arrive packed in iron cases, tanks or metal tanks or other similar objects provided with special locks, the interested party shall be under the obligation of opening the same for the purpose of examination. If this regulation is not complied with, the goods will not be cleared.

29.—Whenever chemical and pharmaceutical products arrive in unsuitable containers or put up thus intentionally for the purpose of rendering sight examination difficult, the interested party shall be obliged to ascertain the exact nature of contents, the interested party shall be under the obligation of presenting open any of such packings as may be required; otherwise, the goods shall not be cleared.

31.—Salts in powder shall be those which are found clearly to have been packed or wrapped up in such a form. Should salts packed in powder form be found to have become so hard that it is necessary to grind them again by the help of mechanical appliances, then they shall be deemed to be salts in lump form or crystals.

This rule shall apply to powders of all descriptions, with the exception of resin or gum-resin, which if they have been ground into powder form shall be liable to duty as powders even if found strongly emulsified.

32.—The word purity used in the Tariff in connection with chemical substances, should not be taken in the rigorous or scientific meaning of this word. It shall suffice that the commodity should possess the organoleptic characteristics pertaining to the substance in question, for it to be considered as pure for the purpose of levying the duty.

33.—Salts prepared for fertilizing purposes should be of well characterised impurity, so that there be no doubt whatever as to whether they are intended for this use.

34.—Neutral acid or basic salts shall be subject to the same duty except those that are otherwise designated in the Tariff. Thus, acid sulphate of soda or bisulphate of soda shall be liable to the same duty as neutral sulphate, being that which is provided for in the Tariff.

35.—Pyroxide (gun cotton) provided in the Tariff is that which is used for the preparation of collodion and celluloid; it contains a lower proportion of nitric acid and is less explosive than cotton used for explosive compounds.

36.—Scientific apparatus and instruments which are free from duty as per this Tariff, arriving arranged together with any manufactured article which is liable to duty, shall pay duty at the same rate as leviable on the manufactured article of which they form part.

37.—In order to obtain possession from the Custom house premises of fire arms other than those the importation of which is prohibited, it will be necessary to produce previously the corresponding authorisation from the Government.

38.—Regarding note paper and envelopes imported in assorted boxes, containing an equal quantity of paper and envelopes, one third of the total weight shall be deemed to be that of the envelopes, and two thirds, that of paper.

43.—The rates mentioned in the Tariff in respect of goods which are not otherwise specified or not otherwise designated, are not absolute. Whenever goods are imported made of materials or in such forms as are unknown, which owing to their quality, name, or other circumstances, are not comprised in the Tariff, the parties interested may, should they deem it advisable, apply to the General Director of Customs, who, upon production of samples and full information of the case, subject to consultation with and approval of the Ministerio de Hacienda (or treasury), will decide as to the rates of duty leviable.

44.—There shall be allowed 5 per cent. in respect of allage or average in wines, liquors, brandies, beer, guinea ale, sarsaparilla beer, cider, table and medicinal mineral waters and olive oil, when imported in glass or earthenware bottles, with the exception of medicinal wines.

In either case the person concerned is required to forward the copies referred to in Art. 1.

ART. 10. The Customs of the Republic are not allowed to proceed to the clearance of goods if the consignee has failed to produce the certified invoice.

Should the Consular invoice required to be produced by the consignee be mislaid or not have arrived, the goods can be cleared, and checked with the invoice received by the Customs, and failing same, with a certificate of the invoice transmitted to the Principal collecting Department.

They are also authorized to declare the true nature of the goods or wares and liquors when it has been omitted, and the amount upon which in such case was made, if that should not have been specified (unless the merchandise should not have been insured and in that case it shall be specified in the petition for corrections).

VII. The Administrators shall admit as valid all invoices with errors or mistakes in the sworn declarations and in the Consul's certificates, provided always that the copy received at the Customs house has the same formalities and it appears to him that it will not give rise to any abuse or fraud, as well as the declarations which do not name the captain of the ship, the name of the ship, or without the respective number, or with mistaken marks, and those which are certified to by a Consul resident in a foreign country, other than that from which the goods come.

VIII. The parties in interest, either individually or through representatives, shall, at the proper time, file a petition written on stamped paper of the value of 25 centavos, requiring with clearness and exactness that the corrections, additions, and other explanations which they desire to make, be received as true. This petition, approved by the Administrator, must be delivered to the proper Customs employee, with instructions to proceed to clearance and attaching it to the respective Customs manifest, and to the other vouchers and in conformity with the petition the employee shall note the corresponding declarations as to its contents.

IX. There shall not be admitted, either in the Customs house itself or in any of the higher Customs offices, any recourse or claim relating to suit or request.

X. Notwithstanding the power conferred, the Administrators may deny this relief, provided they detect fraud on the part of the merchant or if dealing with a case not covered by these instructions and the decision of which is reserved to the Customs Secretary's Department.

XI. The Administrator is also empowered to admit and decree Customs examinations of one or more packages, on the following conditions:

1. Provided there are presented two or more packages with marks and duplicate numbers, even though these latter have some particular sign or mark.

2. When the interested party has not received a Consular invoice, or should said document not be in the Customs house of the Principal Collecting Department within thirty days after the unloading of the merchandise.

3. When there are one or more packages without marks, numbers or without both the marks and numbers, or when the same package has various marks or numbers, or both marks and numbers which make it suspicious.

4. Provided always it is not possible for the interested party to declare the true contents on account of not having the invoices, samples or other information, and because he is ignorant as to whether the shipment is a complete or a partial package, or because he does not know the quality of one or more of the articles, or for any other reason which prevents him from knowing the classification and weights.

6. When the packages have not been manifested, nor any Consular invoice exists, and the liquidation exceeds the maximum limit of $150 specified for importation in detail.

XII.—In all cases of Customs examinations, the same shall be made upon an additional payment of 25 per cent. over the appraisement or regular charges, except in case of importation in detail referred to in Article XVIII.

XIII.—Although the clearance be made after the examination, whenever it is possible for the party in interest to do so, he should declare in the manifest the true contents of the packages, adding thereto as a voucher or verification the Consular or commercial invoice, and in the absence of these, evidence that duplicates have been applied for; and only when the evidence of such application cannot be furnished beforehand shall the Collectors and Administrators give particulars as to the contents found on examination in detail.

XIV.—Customs examination shall not be made save in the actual presence of the Administrator and the Collectors who shall not have verified the manifest, and the examinations shall be made with the necessary care to ensure effectiveness, and shall be signed by all those who take part in it.

XV.—The Administrator shall consider the remarks, complaints, and claims of the merchants or their agents, and shall render his decision, if requested to do so at the proper time—that is to say during the clearance, before the liquidation of the manifest and while the merchandise subsists in the national warehouses; but when the liquidation is completed, such remarks, requests, and claims shall not be considered by him, nor shall he consent to the alteration or correction of any document whatsoever, without incurring his personal responsibility.

XVI.—It will be necessary to proceed to the importation in detail, which shall be authorized in the following cases:

1. If the packet shall not have been declared through manifests by the vessels which discharged them, or in the case of baggage, &c.
2. If they be unaccompanied by a Consular invoice.
3. If the value of the payment shall not exceed $150 silver, in any case.

XVII.—When the liquidation exceeds $20, the value of the stamped paper and the making of the manifest shall be charged for.

XVIII.—If the amount of the payment should exceed the limit of $150, Customs examination shall be required, the authorization of the Treasury Department having been previously obtained.

XIX.—When the Consular invoice for the goods to which the merchandise is referred, without mentioning the person for whose account it is remitted, the Administrator shall require for the examination that the merchant prove his right to the merchandise, either by presenting a bill of sale from the shipper or the bill of lading of the shipment.

XX.—The verification of the manifests shall be made with a copy of the Consular invoice of the Customs house and not with a copy belonging to the merchant, but the latter document shall always be attached to the manifest if it agrees with the copy of the Consular invoice of the Customs house.

TARIFF LAW ON IMPORTATIONS.

ARTICLE 1. Customs duties shall be paid upon all articles, goods and merchandise imported from foreign countries into Nicaragua as prescribed by the following tariff.

ARTICLE 2.—The following rules, and the rules and notes elsewhere stated in this law, shall be observed in the construction and application of this tariff:

GENERAL RULES.

TREATMENT OF FABRICS.

RULE 1. Number of threads and number of determining. By the number of threads in a fabric shall be meant the total number of all threads contained in the warp and weft thereof in a square of 6 millimetres. The warp is the threads which lie longitudinally in a fabric, whether they form the foundation thereof or have been added thereto. The weft is the threads which cross the warp, whether or not from selvage to selvage. To determine the number of threads in a fabric and the proportion thereof subject to the highest rate of duty, a thread counted shall be used, each side being 6 millimetres.

In fabrics woven wholly or in part with twisted, double or multiple yarns, each strand of such yarn shall be counted as one thread in determining the thread count.

Should a fabric be more closely woven in some parts than in others the number of threads in the most closely woven part and in the most loosely woven part of the body of the fabric shall be ascertained, and the average number of threads resulting shall serve as the basis for levying duty.

Threads shall be counted on the finished side of the fabric, if the nature thereof permits; otherwise, on the reverse side. If necessary to ascertain the number of threads, the nap shall be removed or a sufficient part of the fabric unravelled.

Should this be impossible without damaging a made-up article, the fabric shall be subject to the highest rate of duty applicable in the group to which it belongs, and if the fabric be mixed it shall be dutiable at the rate applicable to the most highly taxed component material in the exterior of the article.

RULE 2. Mixtures of two materials.—Fabrics composed of two materials shall be dutiable in accordance with the rules stated at the head of classes D, E, and F (Classes 28 to 29).

RULE 3. Mixtures of more than two materials. Fabrics composed of more than two materials shall be dutiable as follows:

(a) Mixed fabrics of wool and cotton, or of wool and other vegetable fibres, containing threads of silk, in which the number of silk threads, counted in the warp and weft, does not exceed one-fifth of the total number of threads, shall be dutiable under the corresponding items of Class F.

When the number of silk threads exceeds one-fifth of the total, the fabric shall be dutiable under the corresponding item of Class G.

(b) Mixed fabrics of cotton and other vegetable fibres, together with threads of silk, in which the number of silk threads, counted in the warp and weft, does not exceed one-fifth of the total number of threads, shall be dutiable under the corresponding items of Class E, with the addition of a surtax of 70 % for the threads of silk.

When the number of silk threads exceeds one-fifth of the total, the fabric shall be dutiable under the corresponding item of Class G.

(c) Mixed fabrics of wool, cotton and other vegetable fibres, containing no silk threads, in which the number of threads of wool, counted in the warp and weft, does not exceed one-fifth of the total number of threads, shall be dutiable under the corresponding items of Class E, with the addition of a surtax of 40 % for the threads of wool.

When the number of threads of wool exceeds one-fifth of the total, the fabric shall be dutiable under the corresponding item of Class F.

(d) Made-up articles of fabrics containing threads of more than two materials, in any proportion, shall be dutiable under the corresponding items of the class to which belongs the component material subject to the highest rate of duty.

RULE 4. Silk fabrics.—All fabrics containing silk threads, the number of which, counted in the warp and weft, exceeds one-fifth of the total number of threads composing the fabric, shall be dutiable as silk fabrics under Class G.

RULE 5. Artificial silk.—Artificial silk in any form shall be considered as silk for the purposes of this tariff. Fabrics or made-up articles that are mercerized shall pay a surtax of 10 %.

RULE 6. Selvage.—No surtax shall be imposed nor shall any change in classification be made on account of yarns dyed or printed in the selvage only, nor for trade names or marks on the fabric.

RULE 7. Plain woven fabrics.—Fabrics in the weaving of which the threads or yarns (of one strand) of the weft are carried alternately over and under each warp thread, forming right angles throughout the piece, and in which the threads or yarns (of one strand) of the warp are carried alternately over and under each weft thread, forming right angles throughout the piece, shall be considered as plain woven.

When the weaving does not correspond to the process described above, the fabric shall not be considered plain woven for the purposes of this tariff.

RULE 8. Weight of fabrics per 100 square metres. In determining the weight of any fabric per 100 square metres, for the purpose of classification, the calculation shall be based upon a sufficient quantity of the fabric itself, exclusive of labels, paper, labels, tags, strings, tickets, embroidery, trimming or any other thing, object or process (except bleaching, sizing, printing, dyeing, stamping, embossing or mercerizing) added or performed after the fabric has left the loom.

The usual tapes, bands and hosiery wrapping shall be included with the fabrics in determining the dutiable weight.

EXEMPTIONS.

RULE 9. Fine fabrics and knitted and netted fabrics. Flashes, velvets, velveteens, all silk fabrics, all kinds of knitted or netted fabrics, tulle, lace and blondes, containing no threads of textile materials, shall be dutiable at the rate applicable to the most highly taxed component material, whatever be the proportion of such material in the article.

RULE 10. Ribbons, galloons, braids, tape and trimmings. Ribbons, galloons, braids, tape, laces and trimmings containing an admixture of textile materials shall be dutiable at the rate applicable to the most highly taxed component material, whatever be the proportion of such material in the article. When any of these articles contains metal threads in any proportion, it shall be dutiable under the corresponding item of Class G.

RULE 11. Brocades (brochés). Brocades dutiable under Class D, when containing silk, shall be subject to the corresponding duties, with a surtax of 15 %.

Brocades dutiable under Class E, when containing silk, shall be subject to the corresponding duties, with a surtax of 30%.

Brocades are fabrics with ornamental figures formed by means of a shuttle of the kind of weaving in such a manner that the threads forming the figure occupy only that space.

RULE 12. Embroidery and trimmings. Fabrics embroidered by hand or machine after weaving (except silks), embroideries or insertions, or with drawn or applique work, or with application of trimmings, shall be subject to the corresponding duties, with a surtax of 30%.

If the embroidery contains threads or part of common metals or of silver, or spangles of any material other than gold, the surtax shall be 60% of the duties applicable to the fabric.

When the threads, part or spangles are of gold, the surtax shall be 100%.

Embroidery is distinguished from patterns woven in the fabric by the fact that the latter are destroyed by unraveling the weft of the fabric, while embroidery is independent of the warp and weft and can not be so unraveled.

RULE 13. Applique work.—By applique work is meant the superimposing of another material or of the same material on fabrics or made-up articles in the form of designs, by means of sewing, pasting or other process.

RULE 14. Drawn work.—By drawn work is meant the binding or cutting of threads after weaving in such a manner as to leave interstices in parts of a fabric or article, which, at the time of weaving, were filled by threads of the warp or weft.

RULE 15. Trimming.—By trimming is meant the application to a fabric or article, for purposes of decoration or embellishment, of ribbons, hairs, braids, galloons, pieces of fabrics or other materials, pieces or beads of metal or glass, bone, composition, wood, ivory, coral or other material, buttons and buckles in places where not required for fastening, as well as unusually ornate buttons, buckles or fasteners.

RULE 16. Metallic threads.—Fabrics composed exclusively of metallic threads shall be dutiable under Class E.

Fabrics or articles (except those provided for in Rules 10 and 12 preceding), dutiable under Classes D and E, containing threads or part of common metals or of silver, shall be liable to a surtax of 50% of the corresponding duties.

If the threads or part are of gold, the surtax shall be 100%.

RULE 17. Made-up articles and ready-made clothing.—Made-up articles, including ready-made clothing, not elsewhere specifically provided for, shall be treated in accordance with Rule 1, and shall be dutiable at the rate applicable to the most highly taxed component material in the exterior, with a surtax of 50%. Provided that made-up articles specified in this tariff shall not be subject to any surtax for manufacture unless such surtax is specially provided for in connection with the corresponding item.

The made-up articles referred to specifically in this tariff or in this rule shall be held to include articles completely made up or finished, partly finished, cut, basted or hemmed, as well as fabrics in the piece so designed or marked as to indicate their ultimate use.

SURTAXES.

RULE 18. Surtaxes.—The surtaxes applicable on account of brocades, metal threads, embroidery, trimming or manufacture, shall be computed on the primary duties leviable on the fabric, including there-with any increase of such duties on account of admixture.

When more than one surtax is applicable to any textile or article, the percentage of increase for each surtax shall be calculated on the primary duties.

ARTICLES NOT SPECIFIED AND THOSE COMPOSED OF SEVERAL MATERIALS.

RULE 19. Articles composed of several materials.—Any article not specified in this tariff, manufactured of two or more materials, shall be subject to the rate at which it would be dutiable if composed wholly of the component material of chief value; and the words "component material of chief value," wherever used in this tariff, shall be held to mean that component material which exceeds in value any other single component material of the article; and the value of each component material shall be determined according to the assessed value of such material in its condition as found in the article.

RULE 20. Articles not specified. In classifying an article not provided for in this tariff, its commercial designation shall govern.

Imported articles not specified in this tariff, which are similar to any article herein specified, shall pay the same rate of duty which is levied on the specified article, and which is equally applicable in all respects and in the order following: First, in material; second, in quality; third, in texture; fourth, in the use to which they may be applied. If any article not specified equally resembles two or more enumerated articles on which different rates of duty are chargeable, such unspecified article shall be subject to the same rate of duty as is chargeable on the article which it resembles paying the highest rate of duty.

RULE 21. Two or more rates applicable.—If two or more rates of duty shall be applicable to any imported article or manufacture, it shall pay the highest of such rates.

GROSS AND NET WEIGHTS.

RULE 22. Gross weight. The gross weight of imported merchandise is the weight of the goods, together with all the containers, packages, covers, cartons, wrappings, baling, vessels and packing of every kind, whether exterior, interior or immediate, in which the merchandise is contained, held or packed at the time of importation.

RULE 23. Net weight. The dutiable weight of imported merchandise which pays duties upon net weight shall not include the weight of any common exterior package, cover, receptacle, baling, wrapping or packing, but shall include all interior or immediate receptacles, including cardboard, paper board, paper, wood or other material to which the articles are attached, laces, straps, shavings, sawdust, paper, wood or other similar materials interposed between the exterior container and the immediate receptacle of the merchandise to protect it shall not be included in the net weight.

RULE 24. Kilo. Weights shall be expressed in kilo, or fractions thereof.

AD VALOREM.

RULE 25. Value-based. Whenever imported merchandise is dutiable according to its value (ad valorem), the dutiable value shall be the wholesale price of such merchandise in the principal markets of the country whence imported, packed and ready for shipment, including the value of all cases, crates, sacks, packages and containers of every kind, and of all charges and expenses incident to placing the merchandise in condition ready for shipment, but not including ocean freight, insurance, export duties, consular fees and buyer's commission.

RECEPTACLES, PACKAGES AND PACKING.

RULE 26. Articles in the same packages.—When articles dutiable on gross weight and on net weight, by count or measure, ad valorem, or free of duty, are imported in a single package, the weight of the common exterior container and packings shall be printed by weight amounting to various articles, and the proportion for the articles dutiable on gross weight shall be added to the net weight of such articles to determine the dutiable weight.

When articles dutiable on gross weight under different items are imported in a single receptacle the weight of the common exterior container and packings shall be divided proportionately among the various articles being added to their net weights.

RULE 27. Duty on coverings or receptacles.—Unusual packages.—No duty shall be collected on exterior coverings containing articles dutiable on net weight, by count or measure, or free of duty, in general commercial use as such when imported, except coopers' wares, such as barrels, hogsheads, pipes, kegs, which shall be dutiable. Coverings of merchandise (packing or interior) of material or form designed to evade duties or for use other than that intended by the terms of the tariff to which they are dutiable as articles or manufactures, under the items of the tariff to which they correspond by classification. Interior packings containing merchandise dutiable on the net weight shall in no case pay a lower rate of duty than their contents.

Cases for jewellery, used as immediate containers thereof, shall be dutiable under their respective items.

DEFINITIONS.

ARTICLE 3.—Wherever in this tariff the words "the same" or "same" appear they shall be held to refer to and mean the articles mentioned in the preceding item or clause.

ARTICLE 4. The following abbreviations are used in this tariff to represent the terms indicated: G. W., gross weight; N. W., net weight; U. S. P., not otherwise provided for.

ARTICLE 5. The rates of duty prescribed by this tariff are stated in centavos (dollars) or fractions thereof.

ARTICLE 6. This law shall be known as the Tariff Law of 1918.

RATES OF DUTY.

ARTICLE 7.—The rates of duty on articles, manufactures, goods and merchandise imported into Nicaragua shall be as follows: [See pp. 118 to 336.]

ARTICLE 8.—If in the examination of imported merchandise at the custom house there results a difference between the appraised values of the merchandise as made by the custom house and the values declared in the entry requesting liquidation, and such appraised values exceed by 10% the values declared in the entry, the penalty shall be a fine equal to the amount of the duties of which the National Treasury would have been defrauded.

ARTICLE 9.—If any importer or exporter, or his agent, makes or attempts to make an entry of imported or exported merchandise by means of a false invoice or any false statement, by which the National Treasury would be defrauded of the proper and just duties and revenues, the act shall be punished by the custom house by a fine equal to the amount which the National Treasury would have lost, or by confiscation of the merchandise for the benefit of the National Treasury, or by both fine and confiscation.

ARTICLE 10. The custom house shall refund 75% of the import duties collected on wooden boxes or barrels, set up or knocked down, made of hands of wood or iron to secure such boxes, and cans of tin or sheets of tin plate for making cans, provided that such boxes, barrels or cans are exported within six months of the date of their arrival, containing fruits or other vegetable or meat products of the country, and provided also that the duties collected on any importation are not less than $5 dollars. The custom house shall require the necessary proof that the boxes, barrels or cans exported, for which the refund is solicited in accordance with this law, are the same as those imported, on which the full amount of the duties has been paid.

ARTICLE 11.—The description of imported merchandise in the consular invoice and in the entry shall be according to the nomenclature of the tariff or in the equivalent commercial terms, including the name, component materials, quantity and special details required by the tariff. The interpretations or explanations necessary to elucidate the items of this tariff will be furnished by the Collector-General of Customs from time to time by means of circulars, in order that the custom houses may act uniformly in the matter and the merchants have due notice. For the period of one year from the date when this law takes effect the Collector-General of Customs is empowered, in his discretion, not to impose the fines prescribed by the customs laws for a difference between the classification of the merchandise at the custom house and that declared in the entry by the importer, provided that such difference does not affect the weight, quantity or value of the merchandise in question.

ARTICLE 12.—All other tariff laws, decrees, orders and decisions referring to the rates of duty on imports or affecting the duties thereon are repealed, except those contained in contracts or treaties made by the Republic and those stated in the Mining Code.

ARTICLE 13.—This tariff law shall be in effect on and after March 1, 1918, and the law of December 3, 1917, shall continue in force.
